'Holiday' Taken by 200 Laborers Halts New York Tunnel Project

Advertising Man Killed in Suffern

Executive Went Berserk in Restaurant; One Is in Hospital

Suffern, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—A New York advertising executive, who was medically discharged from the marines, was shot and killed early today when he went berserk in a restaurant. Three persons were injured.

Lee Graves, 39, formerly with J. Walter Thompson Co. and other firms, was shot and killed by Police Lt. William A. Crouse, police said.

Crouse was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital with a fractured skull after Graves had hit him with a metal chair, police said. Two other persons, not immediately identified, were treated for injuries suffered in the fracas.

Police reported the following: Graves, who served in the Marine Corps in 1942 and 1943 and received a medical discharge, was staying with friends near Suffern. His wife and two children were with him.

The friends were not immediately identified.

Last night, police received a call from Graves' friends asking what steps were necessary to have Graves committed to Rockland State Hospital.

A local physician, Dr. Burton August, was summoned. He said Graves should be committed immediately to the hospital for observation.

At that moment Graves ran out of the house, leaped in the family car, and sped away.

He went to a dinette on Lafayette avenue, Suffern, and demanded a bottle of beer.

When the counterwoman refused to serve him, Graves threw a sugar bowl at him. Then he threw a cash register through a glass door.

A taxi driver jumped out a window and ran to the police station, returning with Lt. Crouse.

When Crouse was unable to reason with Graves, he fired a shot over his head. Graves hit him over the head with a metal chair, knocking Crouse to the floor.

Crouse fired one shot, hitting Graves in the leg, but Graves kept on coming at him. Then Crouse shot him in the stomach. Graves died immediately.

Dispute Arises Over Wages Paid Various Classifications; Company Spokesman Says Demand for Boost Conceded

Laborers on the New York water works tunnel job between Neversink and Grahamsville continued on "holiday" today and except for repair work by a limited force of mechanics, carpenters and others work on the Frazier-Davis Company tunnel contract was at a halt.

A spokesman for the company said the men were not on strike, there was no picket line but the men had decided to take a holiday yesterday and refused to work.

The dispute is over wages paid to the various classifications of laborers on the job. By nature of the job there is a large percentage of laborers on the tunnel job. It was estimated by the company today that "something over 200 men" were idle.

When the work was started, a company representative said, the company and the union agreed to a wage scale set up by an arbitrator. A scale was set and the men worked for a time but a demand for a higher wage per hour was made and last April 25 an increase of approximately 60 per cent of the increase demanded was granted.

At that time the men had demanded an increase of from 15 cents to 25 cents per hour for various grades of workers. The April 25th increase granted amounted to approximately 10 cents to 15 cents an hour. Since then the work has progressed until recently the men made a demand for the balance of their demands of last spring which was not met at that time. They now ask that the arbitrator grant the balance of their 15 to 25 cent an hour demand which was originally made last spring.

Following demands to the contractors for the additional allowance which was not granted by arbitration last April, the men decided to take a holiday on September 7, the company spokesman said. The company's position is that the men should stand by the decision of the arbitrator since the job was begun under an agreement between the company and the union to fix a wage scale by arbitration. Such a scale was established last April and the contractors take a position that this scale should prevail.

The Neversink-Grahamsville tunnel job, about five miles in length, is approximately 15 per cent completed, a spokesman for the contractor stated today.

Out at Downsville

Laborers on the Downsville tunnel job which is being done by Walsh-Porini Company are also on holiday.

Asked if a report that the job would be shut down for the winter unless the present difficulty is settled promptly and the men return to work, the spokesman for the Frazier-Davis Company stated the contractor had taken no position on that matter. He did state that with the laborers off the job it was difficult to estimate how long the men presently employed could be retained since progress depended largely on the work done by members of the laborers' union.

Egan Is Reappointed To Public Works Board

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today announced reappointment of John J. Egan, 10 Len Court, as a member of the Board of Public Works.

Appointed during the administration of former Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, the senior member of the board has already served four terms, the last of which expired today. His reappointment is for four years.

Cash May Be Sent Simply to 'Polio' At Any Post Office

Drive Would Get Money to Treat 40,000 Cases; First Bid by Group

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—With the United States in the grip of one of the most severe polio epidemics in its history, an emergency drive opened today for funds to cope with an expected total of 40,000 cases.

This is nearly double the number reported so far.

The U. S. Postoffice Department is working with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the week-long emergency drive, with the goal set at $14,500,000.

Announcing the appeal over the Columbia Broadcasting System last night, Foundation President Basil O'Connor said the agency has just about run out of funds to care for victims of the disease.

He said all signs are that the epidemic is just about half over, although the public health service in Washington reported a downturn in incidence of the disease for the second successive week.

With all states but Illinois reporting, the week ended September 3 had 2,915 cases. Officials said that after the Illinois figure is in, the total still probably will be less than the 3,244 new cases reported for the week ended August 31.

So far, the largest number of new cases reported was in the week ended August 24, when 3,422 were stricken.

This is the first time the foundation has ever called for contributions in addition to those obtained in its annual "March of Dimes" campaign.

O'Connor said the foundation funds now are being spent at the rate of $100,000 a day to fight the epidemic, and at this rate, there is only enough money to last about 11 more days.

In the emergency fund drive, arrangements have been made for the Postoffice Department to get contributions addressed only to "Polio" in care of any local post office in the country.

Assistant Postmaster General V. C. Burke directed postmasters throughout the country to "cooperate in every possible way in this worthy project."

O'Connor said that so far this year, 23,513 cases of the disease have been reported across the nation. (Continued on Page 18, Col. 4)

Burned in Effigy

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 8 (AP)—Paul Robeson, the Negro singer, was burned in effigy last night by a small group of robed but unmasked Klansmen. It was the first public demonstration by the Klan in the Birmingham district since 18 were indicted on hogging and related charges here several weeks ago. A dummy bearing a placard, "Welcome Paul Robeson," was strung from one arm of a 30-foot cross. Another dummy with a large question mark pinned on it was hung from the other arm. E. E. Campbell, exalted Cyclops of the Robert E. Lee Klavern, told reporters the burning cross and dummies symbolized the welcome Robeson would receive if he came to Birmingham.

Peekskill Tries to End Rumor Talk

Chamber of Commerce Adopts Resolution to Falsify Certain Accusations

Rally Is Planned

Shanks Veterans Ask Robeson to Attend Event

Peekskill, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Community leaders strove today to dispel what they called "unfounded rumors" circulating in the lower Hudson river valley region, tense after two outbreaks of anti-Semitic violence.

At the same time, war veterans students living in Shanks Village south of here planned a rally Saturday to protest the widespread disorders and stonings following Paul Robeson's concert last Sunday.

They invited the left-wing Negro singer to attend.

The Peekskill Chamber of Commerce, meeting last night, adopted a resolution terming false a rumor that some "people and their homes were in danger because of their race, color or creed."

The chamber meeting was held with heads of four veterans organizations.

Fourteen veterans posts had staged a protest parade at Robeson's concert, preceding the violence and stonings that occurred later when concert-goers staved home.

The chamber also branded as unfounded "accusations" made against certain merchants, most of them Jewish, that their stores would be boycotted on grounds they sold concert tickets or attended the Robeson performance.

"None of these merchants participated in either Robeson affair," the resolution said.

The rally was to be a scheduled Robeson concert Aug. 27, which (Continued on Page 27, Col. 4)

Kelly Is Given ALP Backing

Joseph Kelly of 256 Hasbrouck avenue, Republican candidate for alderman-at-large, became the only city-wide candidate of his party to be endorsed by the American Labor Party at the primary election held Tuesday, according to unofficial tabulation of primary ballots received by the Ulster County Board of Elections.

Kelly is a member of the American Newspaper Guild, a union of newspaper employees, and has been employed by The Kingston Freeman for 23 years, at the present time in the position of assistant city editor. He served in 1934 and 1935 as supervisor of the Fourth Ward and at the time of his election was the first Republican.

Dewey Demands Government Get Off Backs of Farmers

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Governor Dewey joined in the Republican party's rising chorus "statism" today with a demand that the government get "off the backs of our farmers."

"Every step we take toward statism of the old world brings the day much closer when we too shall become a food deficient area," the Governor said.

Dewey was scheduled to follow his speech at a farm dinner sponsored by the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce with an address today (10 a. m. E.S.T.) during the Governor's Day Program at the State Fair here.

The six-day fair ends Saturday.

Dewey made his remarks about "statism" last night in criticizing what he called the benevolent farm policies of the Federal Government. If these proposed policies become law, he said, "we shall arrive where England now is."

Three Railroads Face Strike Over Disputes

Wages Not Involved; Arbitration Plan Rejected by Missouri Pacific Union Officials; Says Board 'Gives Up'

(By The Associated Press)

Three of the nation's railroads were threatened with strikes today, making possible the idling of more than 130,000 rail and steel workers. Some 30,000 workers are set to quit their jobs on the Missouri Pacific Railroad at 3 p. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow. Union officials, who rejected an arbitration proposal yesterday, went ahead with strike plans in the dispute over some 282 unsettled claims involving about $5,000,000.

In Pittsburgh, rail brotherhood officials have called strikes on two inter-plant connection carriers which serve scores of plants, principally in the steel industry. One walkout is set for Saturday and the second for next Tuesday. The work stoppages on the lines would make idle some 100,000 steelworkers.

Wages are not involved in any of the rail disputes.

In Washington, Frank Douglas, member of the Mediation Board, said the board has "given up entirely" in its efforts to avert the strike against the Missouri Pacific Line. The board reported in St. Louis that it had stopped accepting freight that cannot be delivered before the strike deadline. Similar restrictions also would be placed on passenger, mail, baggage and express services, the railroad said.

Four rail unions are involved in the dispute. They are the Locomotive Engineers, Enginemen and Firemen, Railroad Trainmen and Railway Conductors.

Other major labor developments across the nation included: In New York, Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, planned separate conferences with negotiators in attempts to effect a settlement of the 131-day-old Illinois dock strike. Harry Bridges, head of the C.I.O. International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union, demanded that (Continued on Page 18, Col. 8)

Colleges Indicate Veteran Pressure Is Becoming Less

Bard College Enrolls 280, 15 Under Peak Year of 1948-49; Big Schools Hit

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—The high tide of postwar enrollments at New York colleges and universities is receding.

An Associated Press survey showed today that many schools in the state expect a drop in registrations this fall. Other schools, though not anticipating declines, predicted that this year's attendance would remain about the same as last year's.

Educators noted a marked drop in the number of veterans taking courses under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Most veterans have completed their undergraduate training. Graduate schools, however, expect veteran enrollments to remain at high levels for another year at least.

Among the schools expecting enrollment drops this fall are New York University, Fordham University, Siena College, University of Buffalo, Columbia University, City College of New York and Syracuse University.

Schools which anticipate about the same number of students this year as last include Brooklyn College, Champlain College, St. John's University, Long Island University and Buffalo State Teachers College.

Cornell University reported more applicants than it could accept. This year's enrollment is expected to equal or top last year's 9,690.

Bard Has 280

Bard College at Annandale-on-Hudson reported a 1949 enrollment of 280, a drop of 15 students from the peak postwar year of 1948-49. Orasmus W. Robinson, director of admissions, said the decrease was caused "primarily by a loosening of pressure from veterans."

Robinson indicated that the drop-off is mainly from non-resident students. All college living facilities are taxed, he said.

New York University estimates 46,000 will sign up for the coming term, a drop of five per cent from 48,351 registered in last year's peak term.

The University of Buffalo expects 9,500 students. This represents a loss of about 14 per cent from last year's record of 11,021.

Columbia foresees a drop of about 2,000 students from the postwar peak of 31,623 reached in the 1947-48 winter term.

Syracuse looks for a slight decrease from the school's largest postwar enrollment of 15,117 last year.

Hurricane Hits West Area

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP)—A persistent Mexican hurricane with 100-mile-an-hour winds is expected to be centered about 20 miles south of here by midnight tonight. A Weather Bureau advisory also reported that heavy squalls and rough seas will hit the southern California coast during the day. The hurricane, off Baja California, was centered about 70 miles west of Cedros Island early today. It is moving northwestward at about 13 miles an hour. In Los Angeles, Chief Forecaster A. K. Showalter said the storm is "becoming potentially serious for our area" but added there is no present cause for alarm in southern California waters.

President Truman in a speech last Monday called the cry of "statism" one of several "trumped up slogans" fostered by those who would frighten people in higher income groups.

Democratic Leader Lucius of Illinois said: "It's just another slogan. The Republican originate a new one every campaign. But they can't win on a slogan. The people want something constructive as we have given them."

Charges of "statism"—generally hurled as an epithet at the Democratic administration—are creeping more and more into public speeches by prominent people.

James F. Byrnes, former Democratic secretary of state, first used the word last spring when he warned against the growing power of the federal government.

Republicans gleefully picked up the word in attacking the Democratic administration.

Bid for Cuts In Tariff Might Come

Cripps Requests Bigger Market, Does Not Specify How This Would Result

Renews Emphasis

Snyder Says Help Under Marshall Plan Must End by 1952

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—Britain confronted the United States today with an urgent appeal to enlarge American markets for British goods.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer and his country's spokesman in the three-power economic talks underway here on Britain's economic crisis, did not specify how this might be accomplished.

Presumably he has in mind drastic tariff reductions as a long range step by the United States to help Britain earn the dollars that are necessary to enable it to pay its own way in the world again.

Cripps focused virtually his whole case for American aid in establishing British finances on his request to "enlarge our opportunities of earning" dollars.

He made the same appeal to Canada. Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, backing up Cripps' request for readjustments in trade American economic policy, declared that Canada stands ready to do what it can in the present world situation.

'Help Must End'

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, in an American spokesman, promised "sympathetic consideration" to suggestions made by Cripps and Abbott for arresting the drain on Britain's dollar reserves and seeking to balance Britain's world trade.

At the same time Snyder renewed his emphasis on the American position that the Marshall Plan aid must end in 1952 and that Britain's major need is to become self-sufficient by that time.

Cripps, Abbott, and Snyder set forth the basic positions of their government at the second session of the three-power British crisis talks which opened here yesterday. All dealt in fairly general terms. All mentioned the question much discussed publicly, whether the British pound sterling should or would be devalued.

Conference Called

The third meeting of the conference was called for 10 a. m. (E.S.T.) today. Its announced purpose was to assign among committees specific subjects for detailed study. These may provide the basis for decisions by the chief delegates of the three countries by the end of the conference.

At 4 p. m. (E.S.T.), Cripps and British Foreign Minister Bevin were scheduled to meet with President Truman at Blair House. Such calls on the President are customary for visiting cabinet (Continued on Page 27, Col. 5)

'Statism' May Be Unofficial G.O.P. Anti-Truman Cry

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—Republicans are picking up the word "statism" as the party's unofficial battle-cry against the Democrats' "Fair Deal" program.

Some Republicans want their party to make the fight against "statism"—or a social welfare state—the basic issue in all major elections. They charge that what President Truman calls his "Fair Deal" program is leading the country toward greater and greater state control over every man, woman and child.

Republican Floor Leader Wherry of Nebraska has asked G.O.P. policy makers to take an official party stand on this issue.

"We've got to fight statism, the social welfare government, or whatever you wish to call it," Wherry told a reporter. "Government economy and opposition to statism are two issues every Republican can agree on."

Other Republicans agreed with Wherry. But Democratic leaders hooted at the idea that "statism" can be made a political campaign issue.

President Truman in a speech last Monday called the cry of "statism" one of several "trumped up slogans" fostered by those who would frighten people in higher income groups.

Democratic Leader Lucius of Illinois said: "It's just another slogan. The Republican originate a new one every campaign. But they can't win on a slogan. The people want something constructive as we have given them."

Upswing Expected August Report May Put Employment at 60,000,000

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—A sharp upswing in employment is expected to be shown in the Census Bureau's August report on the labor force, due today.

Some government officials predicted that the number of jobs would for the first time this year, reach a level close to 60,000,000.

They figured that unemployment, which was reported at 4,095,000 in July, probably will drop well below the 4,000,000 mark. A decrease would be in line with the usual seasonal trend.

This would turn back the climb in unemployment which started last November and has continued unbroken through July except for slight dips in March and April. The July total was the highest since 1932.

Crazed Man Seized

Terrorized Quebec Village 24 Hours; No One Is Injured

Point Comfort, Quebec, Sept. 8 (AP)—A crazed man armed with a shotgun, who terrorized this tiny village for 24 hours, shooting at neighbors and passing motorists, was captured by police late yesterday.

Police said Nicholas Perrier of the backwoods village, 45 miles north of Ottawa, shot at his son when the boy tried to interfere with him and forced his wife to help chop down telephone poles to prevent a call to police.

No one was injured in Perrier's wild shooting spree, which began after an argument with neighbors.

Russia Preserves Songs
Moscow (AP)—The work of collecting the folk songs and sagas of the scores of nationalities making up the U.S.S.R. goes on without interruption. "Izvestia" recently told of the activities of one of the best-known folk-song collectors of Russia, the director of the Russian People's Chorus of Northern Songs, A. Y. Kojetlova. Kojetlova, in 40 years of work among the Russians in the Archangel and other northern districts, has discovered more than 700 folk songs, tales and epics which have been handed down from generation to generation by word of mouth alone.

Soviet Safety Case
Moscow (AP)—The labor union paper "Trud" recently reported that sentences had been meted out in the Urals to officials of a quarry in Minas at which safety rules had been violated. The chief of the quarry was sentenced to three years deprivation of freedom, a shift foreman to two years and a safety engineer to a fine of 1,500 rubles. "Trud" said because of the negligence of these persons workers in the clay quarry had to work in difficult and dangerous conditions.

Business Has Been Raising Capital Reminiscent of 1929

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Businessmen have been raising new capital this year at a clip exceeded only in 1929. They have had to change markedly the manner of financing.

But in spite of some cries of pain over lack of public interest in their securities, they have found the money to spend for new plants and machinery.

They spent three and a half times as much for this expansion last year as they did in prewar 1939. In January they estimated they would spend about 14 per cent less for that purpose this year. But it now appears that the drop will be much less than first expected.

As a result of this expansion, some industries, because of the slump, have more plant and equipment than they are using for the time being. However, the companies with the latest machinery are in a position to cut production costs, making it tough for any competitor in the buyers' market who has an outdated plant.

Businessmen now get only about half as much, in quantity, for their building dollar as they would have got for the same dollar if spent in 1939. Figuring that a dollar spent in building brought a full dollar's worth in the 1935-39 period as an average, the National Industrial Conference Board says it still brought 94 1/5 cents worth in 1939, but in 1948 brought only 48 cents worth of building.

Industry tapped various sources to find the money to build. In spite of all the talk about the lack of risk capital, business has been able to raise tidy sums since the war by selling securities. You have to go back to the booming twenties to find anything like it. But there is a radical change in the forms this financing is taking.

While the monthly average sale of bonds and notes so far in 1949 is more than twice as high as that in the stock market boom year of 1929, the monthly sale of new common stocks this year has been $53.4 million, compared with $371 1/2 million in 1929. New preferred stock sales are less than a fourth what they were then.

Lack of Risk Capital

One reason for few stock issues may well be the lack of risk capital these days. But part of it may also be that companies find it cheaper to finance their expansion with bonds than with stock. The rate of interest on bonds and notes has stayed at a relatively low level since the war. But as stock prices turned down and earnings and dividends rose, the ratio of earnings to prices has risen sharply. In other words, the dividends that companies were paying on any stock they sold were higher than the interest they paid on notes to raise the same amount of money.

Of course, a sizable part of the money for new plants came out of company earnings, which were retained for that purpose rather than being distributed as dividends. This process, although stoutly defended by management, nevertheless did not necessarily lead people to buy more stocks. However, the stockholders now own plants worth a great deal more than at the war's end.

In the first half of this year, the Department of Commerce says, all industries spent $9.3 billion on plant and equipment, about $290 million more than in the first half of 1948. But the amount being spent is dropping, and for all of 1949 will probably fall below the $19.2 billion total for 1948.

To meet this $9.3 billion building bill in the first half of this year, the department notes that corporations could dip into $7 billion in retained earnings and depreciation reserves, and that they sold $3.3 billion in new stocks and bonds or notes, 80 per cent being bonds or notes.

Business has been very busy since the war expanding to take care of your growing demands. When the slump is over, industry will doubtless have use for every bit of its larger plant, and more.

Idle Payments Have Shown Recession

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—The number of persons seeking unemployment benefits in New York state has dropped nearly 20 per cent since mid-July, State Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported yesterday.

Corsi said 471,659 persons filed applications for unemployment insurance or veterans readjustment allowances last week. This was a decline of 113,039 from the record total of 584,699 in the week ended July 15.

The drop was attributed largely to the discontinuance of most payments to veterans under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

There were 69,425 applications from veterans in the week ended July 15, and only 13,901 last week.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Sept. 8—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cordes of Glen Rock, N. J., were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mrs. Elwyn Winchell. The couple were returning home from their Adirondack camp by way of Cooperstown where they spent Saturday night. Mrs. Cordes, the former Margaret Krokeler of Shokan, suffered injuries and a severe shock in a fall since her trip to this section last summer. The couple plan to dispose of their lodge and 400-acre upstate woodlands.

The John Valland, newcomers to Shokan, have had their large residence, the former James H. Shuter home, given an exterior coat of white paint.

Sonia Wehling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wohlberg of the village center, spent the holiday with her parents. The young woman came here from the Binghamton area where she was employed as a registered nurse at a camp. This fall she will return to Hunter College to take up advanced studies supplementing her training at Bellevue. She plans to teach nursing upon completion of her college work. Also spending Labor Day with the Wohlbergs were their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Siegel of the Bronx.

Harriet Glass and Lester Lawrence, Jr., pupils of the Ashokan School last term, are now students at the M.J.M. School, Kingston. Harold Carlson changes from the M.J.M. School to Kingston High School.

Birthdays this week include that of Mrs. Earl (Alice) Elmdorf on Thursday, Sept. 8. Mrs. Elmdorf is a native of Massachusetts and was a resident of several cities in that state before coming to Shokan. Her hobby is gardening and she is a regular attendant of the Shokan Reformed Church.

Merrill DuBois, Ashokan War 2 veteran, who with his wife and daughter now make their home at Glenford Heights, Hunley, planned to leave this week for Baltimore, Md., where he has secured employment. "Dutch," who for the past two years has been a driver for the Lansdell Asphalt concern in Kingston, will continue with the same firm in the Maryland metropolis. Mrs. DuBois and the baby will remain in Glenford for the time being.

George Jackson has resumed attendance at the Kingston High School where he is now a member of the senior class. George, who was one of the 29 high school juniors selected to take the Central Hudson indoctrination course during the summer, was greatly pleased with the highly instructive and interesting studies furnished by the gas company which included subjects pertaining to both gas and electricity. He and other members of the three groups of students learned about transmission lines, distribution, meter reading and other phases of the gas business. The young men were also taken on inspection trips to various company sub-stations up and down the Hudson valley.

Later, George, as one of the requirements of the course will submit an essay on "What three weeks with Central Hudson meant to me."

The usual Labor Day excursions of city people from the mountains got under way about three o'clock and from that hour on until well towards midnight the stream of east bound cars was almost continuous through Shokan. The Pine Hill Bus Company apparently hired extra buses to handle the load, and groups of passengers braved the intermittent showers to wait at numerous points along the line. Some of them had quite a wait, too, as capacity-laden

A. G. Milbank Dies
Lloyd Harbor, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Albert G. Milbank, 76, lawyer and board chairman of the Borden Co., died yesterday. As a business leader, in 1932 he urged on the United States "socialized capitalism." He defined this as including business cooperation, a moratorium on anti-trust laws, conservation and state Social Security measures. A native of New Haven, Conn., Milbank joined the Borden milk firm after college. He became board chairman in 1917 and was the oldest director in point of service.

WE MUST HELP TINY ECUADOR

"Most of the people are small farmers and small produce merchants. There were few people in the communities that were too rich or too poor. They were indeed a happy people, but in a matter of seconds at 2 p. m. the day before yesterday, everything had changed and it all was disaster."

Thus spoke the president of Ecuador a short time after a shattering earthquake struck the center of that South American country. He was talking of the residents of the city of 50,000, the four towns and the many villages which suffered destruction in the upheaval.

Altogether some 6,000 people were killed and 100,000 made homeless in a 1,500-square-mile area athwart the slopes of the great Andes mountains.

The Red Cross and other agencies acted swiftly to bring the primary emergency under control. Food, clothing and temporary shelter were provided for thousands. But little has been done thus far to rehabilitate hospitals, schools, churches and other basic services in the crumbled towns.

Now the Pan American Union, a highly respected agency devoted to inter-American cooperation and goodwill, is sounding an appeal to Americans to give all they can toward restoring normal life in these Ecuadorian communities.

Discouraged by recurring economic crises abroad, more than a few Americans are beginning to show resentment at the continued shelling out of U. S. dollars to foreign lands. These citizens believe that the recipient nations are not trying hard enough to sustain themselves.

Whatever the truth of that situation, this appeal from Ecuador is in a different class. It is disaster relief. And there America always has responded unflinchingly and with full heart. All the great natural tragedies suffered by the world in recent decades have been eased by American aid given ungrudgingly.

We cannot do otherwise in Ecuador's moment of disaster. By any measure this is a little country and a little people whose plea we are hearing. They are not strong enough to recover from this blow through their own efforts. If we do not help them, most likely no one will.

If any American citizen wants to aid the return to normal living in devastated central Ecuador, his contribution will be gratefully accepted by the Pan American Union in Washington. He should make it payable to the Ecuador Relief Fund.

We have no doubt that Americans will come through. They always have when the trouble was real.

ARCHITECT'S REVENGE

Gilmore D. Clarke, chairman of the Fine Arts Commission in Washington, is paying the penalty for speaking out last year against a project dear to President Truman's heart: construction of a balcony outside the second floor of the White House.

Clarke is reportedly being dropped from the commission after 18 years' continuous service. Mr. Truman's friends say what angered him was the fact that Clarke made an open fight against the balcony plan without giving him advance notice.

Clarke and other members of the commission said the balcony would spoil the basic design of the White House. The President replied that original plans for the building included a balcony. It was constructed last year despite the protests.

Dropping Clarke appears to be Mr. Truman's revenge. But Fate has intervened to give Clarke a sort of revenge, too. The major White House repairs now in progress will keep the President off that balcony for perhaps the next two years.

ROBESON VS. AMERICA

Only one who suffers from race prejudice can forgive Paul Robeson his numerous indecencies, which would never have been tolerated in a white man. The fact that he is a Negro does not exempt him from responsibility for his personal conduct. He has gone about this land denouncing this country, outraging the sentiments and loyalties of other Americans. He has stated a preference for Soviet Russia; yet he insists upon living in the United States. The earth is large and includes many countries. No one needs to live in the United States who dislikes this country. Certainly, the Soviet Union or one of its satellites will accept him and even permit him to sing "Othello," which seems to be his frustration.

Naturally, such rioting and counter-demonstrations as occurred in Westchester are bad. Robeson should be permitted to sing or talk, to warble "Old Man River," parrot Stalin's lines to his heart's content. He has a constitutional right to make a fool of himself, and this country is still strong enough to suffer its foils.

But moral indignation is also understandable. Men who fought in a war, in which he did not fight, men who have been wounded and have seen their comrades killed, will not lightly accept venomous attacks upon their country by a fellow-countryman who hides behind his self-assured leadership of the Negroes and who protests every objection to his misconduct on the ground that a Negro should act less loyally, less decently, less manly than a white person. Were I a Negro, I should reject Robeson's insults by a box on the nose—and I should regard it as proper to do so. This man is devoting himself to destroying the really great work of bringing about a better relationship in this country between Negroes and whites. He is provoking trouble.

The question here is, who incites to riot, Robeson or those who are morally indignant? He and his Soviet stooges feel that they are entitled to form picket lines everywhere, even to encircle our courts, to shriek their hateful slogans, to denounce and insult American institutions, to outrage the sensibilities of every loyal and decent American, but they reject the right of any American to do unto them as they do unto Americans. They constantly incite to riot. They constantly stir up. They constantly place themselves in positions where they provoke, to use one of their terms, street fights, riots, arrests and even physical violence upon themselves. All that is done so that their masters in the Kremlin may say to Europeans and Asiatics, "Fascist America!"

The time has come to face these Communists and their allies for what they are. They are our enemies. They hate us. They are fighting us the world over. Only recently, one who had been their servant, John T. Pace, confessed that he had been hired by them and used by them to create rioting in Washington during Herbert Hoover's term as president and that a vast propaganda was developed out of the veterans' march on Washington to damage this country. Their hope was that someone would be killed and that that would start riots throughout the country.

How much do we need to take from these creatures? If Paul Robeson were a man, he would have appeared before that first Westchester crowd of veterans and he would have sung, "The Star Spangled Banner." Every veteran would have uncovered or he would have stood at attention. Most of them would have joined in the song. But the coward did not appear, and he could not have sung that anthem with respect and love in his heart.

If you ever see a man spit on the American flag, it is not necessary to call a policeman. It is only necessary to maintain one's self-respect. And this we need to reclaim in this land of ours. So much propaganda has been done to make us love our country that we have forgotten how to love our own. We have been made pro-Russian, pro-British, pro-French and pro-German, but we need most of all to love our own land, to respect its traditions, to reverence its flag.

RESEARCH FOUNDATIONS

In these days, when we must admit there is much selfishness and greed in the world, it is encouraging to find out scientists giving up patent rights in remedies for various diseases that would net them millions of dollars if these drugs were put on the market and these scientists collected the royalties therefrom.

We all remember the Latin Foundation in which the proceeds of the sale of insulin, which controls the previously fatal disease, diabetes, are used for further research into diabetes and other diseases.

The most recent contribution to patients afflicted with tuberculosis is streptomycin, the best drug found so far to combat tuberculosis.

In the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Dr. Robert C. Clough, president Rutgers University, has announced that the University will establish an Institute of Microbiology (study of organisms) costing approximately $1,000,000. Dr. Selman A. Waksman will be its first director.

Funds for a million-dollar building and a grant of a quarter million dollars toward its operating expenses will come from royalties on the streptomycin. Dr. Waksman, an alumnus of Rutgers, and a member of its staff for 25 years, assigned his patent to the Rutgers Research and Endowment Foundation with the understanding that any net profits would be used to further research, particularly in microbiology.

Not only will the new institute give Dr. Waksman and his staff greater facilities for expanding research, but will also make possible an improved program of teaching graduate physicians in the science of research. Thus, recently graduated physicians, young and enthusiastic about research work, will be given an opportunity to carry on this important work.

Streptomycin, which provided the long sought treatment for many forms of tuberculosis, influenza meningitis, cholera, infections of urine and blood and certain infections of the intestine was patented by Dr. Waksman in 1945. This and eight other Waksman patents have been assigned to Research Foundation.

There is no better way for a man of wealth to help his fellowman than by supporting a research foundation.

the ark so much nonsense that it was all an American plot to spy on the Soviet Union, on the opposite side of the mountain from Turkey.

Now the Russians have announced the finding, after six years of digging, of traces of Stone Age man in Soviet Armenia near Ararat. Is this what they feared foreign eyes might discover from the vantage point of the mountain top?

Some Americans would become more conscious of the hardships that the British are suffering when they hear that Britain is without bubble gum. Other Americans would find that a solid argument for going there.

It's the Least We Can Do

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Kindly Gen. Omar Bradley, top chief of staff, was attending a cocktail party given by Mrs. Louise Helberg, ex-wife of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. General Bradley is discreet and not especially talkative, but as an officer jealous of the prestige of the army, certain developments have a Senate hearing had got under his skin.

For, despite the amazing Senate investigation disclosures, President Truman had made a statement just before the Helberg party vigorously defending the chief subject of the Senate probe—Gen. Harry Vaughan.

"You see this left arm," said the chief of staff to one of the guests as he arrived. "It served me all during the war and I don't mind what I'd do without it. But I'd have given it gladly if the President hadn't made that statement defending Vaughan."

Note—Though General Vaughan has violated Army Regulation 600-10, that no officer can raise political funds, there is nothing the army can do to discipline him. The President, as commander-in-chief, would fire anyone who raised a finger against his old crony.

Pontiff Orders Peace

Members of the Catholic hierarchy intimate that it was His Holiness Pope Pius XII who ordered Cardinal Spellman to make peace with Mrs. Roosevelt. They also indicate that Spellman, once the Pope's favorite and in line to become papal secretary, may have lost this privileged position to Cardinal Stritch of Chicago, a more liberal prelate and a friend of the Roosevelt family.

In addition to The Vatican, Ed Flynn, Irish boss of the Bronx, emphatically demanded that Cardinal Spellman make peace with the former first lady, Flynn, who knew Spellman long before he became cardinal, was brief and to the point.

"If you don't patch up this fight with Mrs. Roosevelt," he told Spellman, "we won't be able to elect a Catholic to any office in New York state for the next 30 years."

Flynn had in mind the long-time alliance between Jewish and Catholic voters in New York, which has voted Democratic ever since the early days of Roosevelt. This alliance, responsible for Democratic victories during the past 16 years, was seriously threatened by Catholic opposition to ex-Governor Lehman and his candidacy for the Senate.

Cardinal Spellman himself was credited with spearheading the Lehman opposition because the ex-governor last year served on a committee of protest against banning "The Nation" from New York public school libraries.

Lehman vs. Spellman
 "The Nation" was banned because it carried a series of articles by Paul Blanshard, prior to publication in book form, critical of the church. Lehman, on the other hand, argued that since New York public schools are attended by Protestants and Jews as well as Catholics, their reading material should not be fixed by Catholics alone. Lehman felt that the Church had every right to set the reading material in its own parochial schools, but not in public schools supported by the taxpayers.

Cardinal Spellman, however, vigorously disagreed with the ex-governor's sharp personal letter. And later Lehman received word from Catholic leaders that if he ran for Senate this fall, he would have organized Catholic opposition.

Mrs. F. D. R. Breasts Opposition
 All this was one reason for Ed Flynn's blunt warning to Cardinal Spellman that he would have to make peace with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Actually Mrs. Roosevelt had no idea that the cardinal was coming to see her in the country. And, contrary to all reports, the parochial school issue was not discussed. The cardinal talked about the late president, plus various nonchurch matters.

Finally Mrs. Roosevelt brought up the question of Governor Lehman and expressed the opinion that it would be in the best interest of all the people if he were to become a candidate for the Senate. She also mentioned the cardinal's reported opposition.

The cardinal then said that when he got back to New York he would be happy to make it emphatically clear that he was not opposed to Lehman. He further said he would issue instructions throughout his domain that there should be no church opposition to the benign ex-governor of New York.

The meeting ended on a most happy and cordial note.

Navy Lobby
 It's not supposed to be known but the Navy went over the head of Secretary of Defense Johnson at the American Legion Convention, and brazenly lobbied for Legion support of the super airplane carrier. The Navy's case was presented to a Legion subcommittee by two brass hats.

Vice Adm. Calvin Durgin and Capt. Joseph Kane, who claimed to be official Navy spokesmen, but admitted they hadn't cleared their material with either the joint chiefs of staff, the Secretary of Defense or even the Secretary of the Navy.

Admiral Durgin introduced Captain Kane who, he said, would "explain the mistakes we are making in our defense policy." Kane charged bluntly that Secretary of Defense Johnson's orders, cancelling the super-carrier, were "based on faulty reasoning."

Note—This performance by two high Navy officers was in direct violation of orders. For the same offense, an enlisted man would have been sent to the brig. (Copyright, 1949, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Freedom of Press Protest Is Lodged as Regards Circulation Discrimination

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 8.—Although the Constitution says that Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of the press, the question of what does or does not violate this provision is determined by the Supreme Court of the United States in specific instances.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association, through its general manager, Cranston Williams, has just lodged with Congress a protest against the pending bill to discriminate between newspapers with different sized circulations is directly contrary to what the Supreme Court has decided is an infringement of the Constitution.

Mr. Williams points out that a subcommittee of the Senate Post Office Committee has approved increases in second-class postage rates but would exempt from the proposed increases weekly newspapers having not more than 10,000 circulation. The bill also provides certain differences of rate depending on the nature of the contents and favors certain publications with a lesser amount of one type of content.

In 1938 when the late Huey Long was governor of Louisiana, says Mr. Williams in a letter to all members of the Senate and House, "he was instrumental in having the State Legislature pass a law classifying the press for purposes of taxation. That law attempted to tax newspapers having total circulations each week in excess of 20,000. The aim was to reach the daily newspapers, the state and not tax the weekly newspapers. The United States Supreme Court eventually passed on the validity of that law and declared it to be invalid, saying: 'a free press stands as one of the great interpreters between government and the people. To allow it to be fettered is to fetter ourselves.' The highest court held the Louisiana law unconstitutional under due process of law clause because it abridged the freedom of the press and because the tax restricted the press by curtailing revenue from advertising and by tendency to restrict circulation. This was in violation of the first amendment to the Constitution."

"In my opinion the present proposals in the Congress with respect to second-class postage rates and the wage-hour law are attempts to classify the press for purposes of government regulation."

"If the Congress has the power to classify the press as now proposed under amendments to the wage-hour law and determining second-class postage rates, there would be no limit apparently to the power of the Congress to break down the press and exempt those which it might favor and oppress those which it wanted to punish. If the Congress has the power to classify the press based on volume of circulation, advertising content or area of circulation, the Congress might go further and classify the press according to the quality, quantity and type of news content. There can be no such things as a free press in the United States if the Congress can exercise such powers with ultimate approval by the U. S. Supreme Court."

"The American Newspaper Publishers Association does not say that newspapers are exempt from any of the ordinary taxes imposed upon all business but it does take the position that the Congress under the Constitution of the United States does not have the power to classify the press for purposes of regulation regardless of the purpose."

Mr. Williams also raises a point about proposed amendments to the present wage and hour law recently passed by the House and pending in the Senate. He says that exemptions from minimum-wage requirements are to be granted to "any employee employed in connection with the publication of any weekly, semi-weekly, or daily newspaper with a circulation of less than 5,000 the major part of which circulation is within the county where printed and published or counties contiguous thereto."

A similar provision, fixing the exemption for weekly and semi-weekly newspapers up to 3,000 circulation, is already in the existing law. The mere fact that Congress will impose a financial burden based on size of circulation is manifest proof of the discrimination being practiced against other publications, for example, 3,500 circulation today or 5,500 circulation in violation of the proposed act. These abuses of power could, of course, be protested in the courts but Congress ought not to impose the burdens in the first instance.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 6.—To citizens who desire to face the truth, I recommend frank acknowledgment of the fact that unionism is an enemy of labor and a corruption of government. Labor, meaning people who work, is no more virtuous than merchants, doctors, clergymen or public officials. It is customary to goose-grass labor for votes and retail patronage, but no more virtuous than the working people themselves that they contain their due proportion of loafers, counterfeits and rascals. They are, on the average, less intelligent than most other elements of society. That is why they are labor. For that reason, the better elements should oppose with all their wit and might all efforts to elect a labor-government.

The decision that unionism is a menacing fraud calls for moral and intellectual courage. It will be very unpopular. Much of the abuse will come from ignorant, selfish workers who would sign away their manhood and their rights, too, in return for a few dollars a week of inflated currency given them by unions. If we keep in mind the cynical, predatory character of the union bosses we can easily see that these temptations to the fools are mere bait.

For our educational plant, the majority of the American people still can't realize that every raise in pay or improvement of working conditions obtained by unions is paid for, and more, by sacrifice of personal rights. If the union member injured only himself, I would say that that was his privilege, although, in a parallel case, the federal government would intervene to save him from his folly on the ground that a fool cannot sell himself into slavery.

That is what an American does when he joins or is forced into a union. He subjects himself to a set of rules and a rule of brutal, dictatorial whims which very seriously damage the wonderful citizenship which the founding fathers wrought for all of us. The government which the founding fathers bequeathed to us is one of weak mind is so conscientious in protecting them that it has even violated the constitution by disallowing their freedom to enter such contracts. You might reach a considered decision to sell yourself to a rich man as an absolute slave to provide comfort and financial security for your dependents. Thousands would sell their children and even go into production for the slave market if the price were right. We have actually seen the next thing to that in the calculated moves of profligate members of the lower orders to get on relief or join the army. We outlawed the Yellow Dog contract between employers and workers.

In the light of later learning, I would admit that some employers actually desire only to keep men out of the power of Green, Murray and Lewis. They knew what harsh hypocrites the union racketeers were. I know that is my desire today. I freely admit that, for a long time, I was pro-union. Most of that time I was sincere, but during the last couple years I just needed the Yellow Dog contract and the moral question to decide that unionism was absolutely bad and ought to be wiped out. My trouble was, and I think the handicap of most people who have not yet seen the light is, that we careless-

So They Say...

World government is remote and ideal—it captivates the imagination by its claim to end all wars and remove the threat of the atom bomb. It captivates the reason by its simplicity—one law to be enforced all over the one world. But it is not rational or possible at this time.

Edward J. Mronan, editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar.

The owner of these plants would get 30 years in a federal prison in the United States.

—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, in Iran, where they children labor for 18 cents a day.

It is a most extraordinary thing that lawyers for defendants in a criminal case and their witnesses shall persistently and deliberately decide what questions they will answer and what questions they won't and then further have the effrontery—at least one of them did to say that was the rational policy of workers and labor. I am pretty sure that statement is resented by a good many working people in the United States.

—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, in the trial of Communist leaders.

As Pegler Sees It

ly assume that the unions are altruistic and beneficial to the so-called common man.

But—and here is the dirty trick—we granted the unions the right to impose Yellow-Dog terms on the slaves just liberated from the soulless corporations. This Yellow-Dog slavery is explicit in most unions' constitutions and by-laws and implicit in all the others. Some time ago I testified before a section of the House Committee on Labor about union racketeering. To establish the basis for my attack I brought to the Capitol about twenty constitutions. They all outrageously violated the constitutions of the nation and the states and flatly degraded the union members to the status of frightened, whimpering subjects of the union bosses.

After I had read off the yellow dog clauses and other un-American iniquities straight out of these booklets, the chairman began to squirm. He is a union lawyer. After all, he got a fee of $80,000, cash, from the treasury of just one local of the Carpenters' Union in a jam with the parent organization. So he was pursuing an understandable quest for similar cases. When his two-year term is up he can go back to lawing against the big fat treasuries of the international unions for more of those $80,000 fees. He wanted names, addresses and particulars. Smelling something, I decided to let him find his own. I can't tell which side is right—represent for his $80,000 fees when his two years are up. He might become lawyer for the internationals. My witnesses, the people who had written to me complaining of yellow-dog treatment, brutality and robbery, might come down with an epidemic of broken legs.

The House Committee on Labor definitely did not want the record to show that unionism was inherently just the same old yellow dog system, this time with the unions holding the leash and beating the poor, piteous cat, the common man, the fool who looked to Roosevelt as a god. Why pretend to believe that there can be anything decent in this foul system? Why not put Green, Murray and Lewis to intelligence tests? Why are they so good to us? They now have the power to throttle the country at a word. Did the people ever intend them to have that power? They are grabbing millions, out of the pay of citizens who were driven into their rackets by political force and spending it to elect the same kind of bankruptcy and poverty government that the British got from their Socialist party hollies with the name of labor.

All such things considered, I find it quite easy and pleasant now to say that I am anti-union, absolutely.

Look at Smashed Cars

Clayton, N. M. (AP)—Instead of a speeding ticket, Police Chief Emmett Coble took a car full of hurrying tourists to see some smashed up cars. "We have a nice city," the chief said, "and like to have motorists drive slow enough to see it. We also have some nice eating places." Then he released the visitors. They ate in Clayton, too!

Money But No Crackers

Antwerp, Belgium (AP)—A coal miner from the Charleroi area was pulling his wallet out of his pocket to give his son a little money to buy crackers and nuts for an elephant in the Antwerp zoo. The elephant picked up the wallet and quietly swallowed it. The elephant got no nuts or crackers. The mine worker got his money back from insurance.

Dock Talks Split Into Two Groups

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Hawaiian dock strike negotiations—complicated by two new issues injected by Longshoremen Leader Harry Bridges—split into two separate conferences today after an opening joint session.

Cyrus S. Ching, head of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, called each side in the dispute to confer with him. A new peace talks started yesterday. By Ching's demand, that the two issues be settled before any general settlement of the crippling 13-day-old strike.

Bridges, leader of the CIO International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union, brought up these issues in addition to the basic wage demand.

1. Objection to a contract provision which might be used to require ILWU members to cross picket lines under some circumstances.

2. Demand that stevedoring firms shall not in the future hire any of the 1,000 workers now employed in the docks by the territorial Hawaiian government, which seized the docks.

W. Russell Starr, chief negotiator for the struck stevedoring companies, said Bridges' new demands would interfere with settlement of the dispute.

The second demand involves "blacklisting." Starr said and the employers will oppose it. Meanwhile, loading operations continued on the first Matson Navigation Company ship to take cargo at Honolulu since the strike began.

Bridges' demands at yesterday's closed session here were announced by Ching. Bridges left the meeting without speaking with Starr. Neither Ching nor Starr would give an opinion on whether chances of a settlement were better or worse.

The union is seeking a wage increase of up to 26 cents an hour above the present $1.40. Bridges, who has not set a definite figure, made a cut two weeks ago in its original demand for an increase of 32 cents. About 2,000 union members are on strike in Hawaii.

Car Is Damaged

The Woodstock Fire Department was called out about 8 p. m. Wednesday when the battery cable short circuited and started a small fire in a 1949 model automobile owned by A. L. Schneider of Chichester. Firemen reported the cable saving the automobile from further damage, according to the report. The fire was discovered while the automobile was in Pearsville, opposite the Pearsville Store from where the alarm was turned in.

Veterans Are Asked To Give Up Firearms

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien has issued a new appeal to all war veterans to turn in their souvenir firearms and ammunition at police stations.

In making the appeal yesterday, the commissioner cited the mass murders committed in Camden, N. J., by a hostile veteran with a German automatic pistol.

A large number of weapons was surrendered here when a similar appeal was made in 1947. The number dropped considerably in 1948, and none has been received by the police this year, O'Brien said.

Need Good Timing To Get Game Here

Today's lesson hand on the play was given to me by Ira Stasser, who is associated with the May-fall Bridge Club of New York city. He thought it was a good lesson in timing, and I agree that it is.

The opening lead of the jack of hearts was won in dummy with the queen. Declarer could see that he was going to lose two spade tricks and it was going to be difficult to keep from losing two club tricks.

Declarer led a small spade from dummy. West played the jack, the queen was finessed, and East won with the king. Buck came another heart which was won in dummy with the king. A small spade was played and declarer went up with the ace. The seven of diamonds was led and the queen finessed. On the ace of diamonds the three of clubs was discarded. The seven of hearts was played, won with the ace, and the last heart was ruffed with dummy's last trump.

The four of diamonds was played and trumped by the declarer with a small spade. Now at this point declarer led a trump, throwing East in the lead. All East could do was to cash his ace of clubs and give declarer a club trick.

Sees Fear of Depression
Moscow, (AP)—Pavel Bonov, who visited the U. S. as a guest of the All-American Congress in Defense of Peace has summed up his impressions of the country in "Znamya" ("The American people, he said, "sense that they are on the eve of an economic depression by comparison with which the 1931 catastrophe will seem utterly trivial." Discussing the impressions, Culture and Life, said the Soviet writer talked with many representatives of progressive American intelligentsia. Their statements induced themselves to one genuine cultural life in the U. S. A. is being trampled by reaction.

Richard Strauss Dies in Germany; Famous Composer

RICHARD STRAUSS
Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Sept. 8 (AP)—Richard Strauss, one of the world's greatest contemporary composers, died today. He was 85.

His genius ran the gamut of musical expression from simple songs and chamber music to symphonic poems, symphonies, and operas. "Der Rosenkavalier" and his impressionistic opera "Salome" are among his most popular works. He was a musical prodigy at the age of four and began composing when he was six. At 12 his Opus No. 1, a "Festmarsch" for orchestra was before the public.

Impressionistic expressions in tone form which Strauss composed in middle life were the subject of critical debate. He lived to see many of his innovating become almost commonplace musical devices. His tone poems, "Till Eulenspiegel," "Don Quixote," and "Don Juan" are popular with symphonic audiences throughout the world. He composed "Salome" in 1904 produced the opera "Elektra" three years later. Both works were widely known in America. "Tod und Verklärung" (Death and Transfiguration) a tone poem written in 1889 is regarded by many critics as one of his greatest works.

$200,000 Blaze
Philadelphia, Sept. 8 (AP)—A gasoline explosion today touched off a fire which swept a trucking firm's terminal at nearby Edgemoor, Bucks County. Damage was estimated at more than $200,000. The trucking firm, owner of the trucking service, the blaze began about 8 a. m. when 2,700 gallons of gasoline were being pumped from a tank truck into an underground tank.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Buying interest in stocks persisted in today's market following a lively advance yesterday.

The rise was somewhat labored but the direction was steadily forward.

Turnover expanded — helped along by numerous large blocks — while prices crept ahead.

Some issues did not find much favor yesterday — such as steel and non-ferrous metal stocks — joined in the move.

Brokers suggested that the increase in buying might be taken as a sign that investors and speculators are less worried than they have been over the outcome of the steel wage increase argument and the current Washington discussion over Britain's economic ills.

Business news on the whole remained encouraging but there was no specific development which could be regarded as a market tonic.

Robert Lane Home At Boiceville Is Destroyed by Fire

Fire of unknown cause destroyed the home of Robert Lane on Route 28 opposite the site of the new Ontario School at Boiceville Wednesday afternoon.

Chief Albert Fox of the Olive Fire Department No. 1 reported the alarm was received at 2:35 p. m. and the department responded to find the one story frame house completely involved in flames and only two of the walls still standing. The family had escaped injury, according to the report.

The fire had begun to spread to "hundreds of loads" of slabwood which was piled about 15 feet from the house, but firemen were able to save the wood after laying 1,000 feet of hose from the Esopus creek, the fire chief said. Also saved were other nearby buildings including the old C.C.C. building, he said.

The destroyed building is located on the property also occupied by the Olmsted sawmill, which is situated on the slabwood pile near the house.

The fire was able to get a good start due to the delay occasioned by the fact that the Phenicia Fire Department was called first, and the call relayed to the Olive department, Chief Fox said.

Phenicia and the Olive department both sent trucks and firemen, but because of the distance involved and the slight delay in spreading the alarm neither truck arrived until the house was practically destroyed, he said.

Two Plead Innocent To Assault Charges

Two local young men have pleaded innocent of third degree assault charges brought against them as the result of an alleged fight on Route 9-W outside a night club about two miles south of Kingston, the sheriff's office reported.

County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg and County Identification Officer Leonard Belmont reported that on Wednesday afternoon they arrested James Cave, Jr., 29, of 324 Wall street, and James Castle, 173 Smith avenue, on a warrant obtained by Charles Schulenberg of Delaware avenue, complainant. Cave and Castle were arraigned Wednesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John O. Deaver, of Esopus and were released on $50 bail each for appearing in court September 14.

The complainant alleged the fight occurred about 2:30 a. m. Tuesday, Vredenburg said.

Would Sponsor Bill

Ontario, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—State Senator Walter W. Stokes plans to sponsor legislation next year to provide for mobile safety inspection units to check motor vehicles on the highway. Stokes said last night that a motor club meeting that under the plan 10 to 12 trucks would be used by inspectors. If the cars halted by inspectors needed repairs for safety reasons, Stokes said, the drivers would be required to go to specified garages. Stokes, Cooperstown Republican, discussed the plan with the motor club of Chenango, Oswego, Delaware and Schoharie counties.

Unruh in Asylum

Camden, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—Howard B. Unruh, Bible-reading gun collector accused of slaying 13 persons, has been removed from Cooper Hospital where he was threatened by a relative of one of his victims. The 28-year-old former aviator was taken yesterday to the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane at Trenton. Detectives later disclosed that a relative of 10-year-old John H. Wilson — whose death yesterday raised the toll in Tuesday's River Road massacre to 13 — appeared at Unruh's room in the same hospital. The Wilson boy's relative, detectives said, declared "I'm going to get him."

Permits Show Increase

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Permits for building construction increased by about 50 per cent in New York city in the past seven months, but fell off by $2,500,000 in the rest of the state. Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi said $476,000,000 worth of permits were issued during the period to communities of 2,500 population and up. New York city's building plans were $160,000,000 greater than during the same period last year. Corsi said this figure accounted for an overall increase in the state of about 50 per cent. However, he added, permits in the rest of the state were off a quarter of a million dollars from last year.

Italian Makes Bid

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—An Italian flier today made a bid to become the first aviator to make the east-to-west Atlantic non-stop flight in a single engine plane, representatives announced. Thirty-six-year-old John Brodello is due at La Guardia Field at 11 p. m. (EST) tomorrow. He left Lisbon at 11 a. m. (EST). His sponsors said, with Brodello as his co-pilot, Capt. Camillo Baroglio. The two plan a western hemisphere trip to raise $3,000,000 for a national Italian boys' town near Turin.

Cabbie Found Dead

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Michael Parascando, 36-year-old taxi driver, was found shot to death today at the wheel of his cab after it had crashed on a Brooklyn street. The body bore two bullet wounds, one in the neck and the other in the back. Witnesses of the crash said they saw a man run away from the cab after the accident. Police theorized the cab driver had tried to hold up the cab driver, then shot him when he resisted.

Late Bulletin

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Governor Dewey was asked today to send the state militia as violence flared in the 13-week-old Bell Aircraft strike for the second successive day.

The request was made by District Attorney William E. Miller of Niagara county as flying squads of unionists attacked work-bound non-strikers.

Shortly after at least 14 were reported injured in two attacks this morning. Miller said he telephoned Lawrence Walsh, Governor Dewey's counsel.

"I gave him a graphic picture of events as they have occurred within the last two days," said the 30-year-old district attorney.

Seek Mistrial in Red Case Because of Clash

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Defense attorneys sought today a mistrial in the Communist conspiracy trial because of "force and violence manifest" after a Paul Robeson concert at Peekskill, N. Y., last Sunday which was attended by three defendants.

Federal Judge Eliot R. Medina denied the motion — most recent of dozens in the 34-week-old trial of 11 top Communist leaders.

In an exchange with Defense Attorney George W. Cockett, Jr., Medina said, however, in referring to the violence at Peekskill: "I definitely think it was an outrage — there's no question about it."

The judge also denied a motion that he direct the U. S. attorney to proceed with an investigation of the Peekskill incident. Affidavits in support of this second motion were sworn to by these defendants: Irving Potash, international vice president of the C.I.O. Fur and Leather Workers Union; City Councilman Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., a Negro; and Robert G. Thompson, New York state chairman of the party.

Potash said he was injured when windshield glass from the car in which he was riding pierced one eye. Davis and Thompson said the autos in which they were riding were damaged by thrown missiles.

Forecasts Big Rise in Gas and Electric Sales

Gas and electric sales of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation will surge upward during the period 1949-1953 according to sales forecasts included in a special company report to stockholders issued today. The report indicates that electric sales will increase 45% over present levels and that gas sales will increase by over 30% during the four-year period. It emphasizes that Central Hudson is able to forecast future sales trends with unusual accuracy due to the economic stability of the company's franchise territory.

In commenting on the report, Ernest R. Acker, president of the Central Hudson System, pointed out that growth has been a chief characteristic of the company. He said: "During the past 20 years, use of electric power in the company's franchise territory has increased 250%. In the past five years alone the increase has been 80%. Public demand for electricity in our area seems insatiable, and everything points toward a big increase in sales during the next few years. As for gas, Central Hudson's gas sales have gone up 105% in the past 20 years. With the introduction of natural gas into our system in 1950 we expect to reduce the price of gas to our customers. This will be a tremendous stimulant to gas sales. To meet rapidly rising customer demand for its products, Central Hudson will spend $27,000,000 on construction during the next four years. This program includes construction of a 60,000 kilowatt generating unit for a new steam generating plant at Danskammer Point on the Hudson river, construction of a new hydroelectric plant of 25,000 kilowatts to be located at the outlet of the New York city water tunnel near Gramhamville, and construction of facilities required for introduction of natural gas into Central Hudson's gas transmission and distribution system.

Lions Have Own Circus Day During Weekly Luncheon

It was circus day at the Kingston Lions Club luncheon Tuesday when Henry P. Eighmey of The Freeman advertising department unfolded the history of the Big Top back to the days of George Washington.

The guest speaker, a model builder, whose quarter-inch scale circus will be featured at the Fair Street Reformed Church fair Thursday and Friday, was heard with the same degree of attention commanded by a star on the flying trapeze or a wild animal trainer in the steel arena.

Members of the Kingston Colonial baseball team invited to the luncheon were as eager as the Lions to hear all about the great American circus and joined in the consensus that the program was very entertaining.

Eighmey took his audience of business and professional men back to their boyhood, the days when a fellow carries water to the elephants for his pass to Spangland and all the wonders seen under the canvas of shows that travel America from coast to coast.

As he went back to 1793 when President George Washington was the guest of Ricketts Circus in Philadelphia, elder members of the Lions Club envisioned the color of the old time shows with their gala street parades and bawling calliope that drew thousands to the curb and into the main tent.

It was in 1836, according to Eighmey, that the first circus traveled by rail and in 1872 special cars were built for the great P. T. Barnum show.

As a member of the Kingston Model Railroad Club, Eighmey showed particular interest in circus history, the motive for building his small-scale show that has been exhibited around New York state and in the east.

At the age of eight, Eighmey started building his model circus that now numbers more than 100 pieces, including all types of bright colored wagons, menagerie cages, railroad cars and circus tents.

Among his friends in the circus world are Charles T. Hunt, a Kingstonian who started in the outdoor entertainment business 57 years ago, and Prince Ki-Gor, lion tamer with Billor Brothers. When he isn't putting his snarling big cats through their routine in the steel arena, Ki-Gor too is a model builder.

Several circus wagons from the Eighmey collection were on display at the luncheon and the spectators kept him busy answering questions relative to his hobby.

Eighmey holds the distinction of having had his models on display at the luncheon in Bridgeport, Conn. honoring the great P. T. Barnum whose name is synonymous with the American circus.

Marshmallow Mixture Is Showy

DESSERT MOON—Chocolate ice cream with mallow ice cream sauce is neatly garnished with coconut mallow balls.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

If you go in for supper desserts, then these marshmallow recipes are what you've been looking for:

Coconut Mallow Balls
(Yield: 12 mallow balls)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/2 cup sugar, 2/3 cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 12 cupcake, one-inch diameter, 2 cups shredded coconut.

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/2 cup sugar, 2/3 cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 12 cupcake, one-inch diameter, 2 cups shredded coconut.

Softened gelatin in cold water; place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Place corn syrup and vanilla in large bowl of electric mixer. Add gelatin and sugar mixture and beat on highest speed until mixture becomes thick and of soft marshmallow consistency, about 15 minutes. Measure 2 cups of the mallow mixture.

(Reserve remainder for mallow ice cream sauce.) Dip cupcake in mallow mixture and then roll in coconut.

Mallow Ice Cream Sauce
(Yield: about 2 cups)

One 9-ounce can crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, remaining mallow mixture (about 2 cups).

Add crushed pineapple and lemon juice to mallow mixture. Use as ice cream or cake frosting.

Apricot Mallow Pie
(Yield: One 9-inch pie)

One cup dried apricots, 1 envelope gelatin, 1/3 cup cold water, 1/2 cup sugar, 2/3 cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, one 9-inch baked pastry shell.

Cover apricots with water and simmer slowly in covered pan until tender. If all water is not absorbed, uncover to evaporate liquid. Remove from heat and mash to a paste; cool. Soften gelatin in cold water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat.

Place corn syrup and vanilla in large bowl of electric mixer. Add gelatin and sugar mixture and beat on highest speed until mixture becomes thick and of soft marshmallow consistency, about 15 minutes. Measure 2 cups of the mallow mixture; fold in mashed apricots and whipped cream. Turn into baked pastry shell. Chill in refrigerator, 4 to 6 hours until firm.

State C.I.O. Is Ready to Support Truman Policy

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—The State C.I.O. was primed today to throw all-out support to President Truman's anti-Communist foreign policy and to blame Governor Dewey for anti-Red violence aimed at Paul Robeson.

Formal approval of these positions awaited action by delegates during the C.I.O.'s three-day 10th annual state convention which got underway today.

President Louis Hollander, meanwhile, lashed at groups within the C.I.O. which he said "slavishly adhere to the policy of the Kremlin."

He predicted in a prepared keynote address that the Right Wing-controlled convention would "condemn these disruptionists."

A top-heavy majority of the 800 delegates was expected to adopt resolutions, probably tomorrow, that:

1—Denounced Communism and Soviet "imperialism" and urged enactment of President Truman's billion-dollar program to arm western Europe against aggression.

2—Blamed the Dewey state administration for the rioting at Peekskill August 27 and last Sunday in connection with concert appearances by Robeson, the Left Wing Negro singer.

The first resolution, which also supported the Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact, was described by the C.I.O. leader as the state unit's most emphatic endorsement of the Truman foreign policy.

The Robeson resolution criticized what it termed "hoodlums responsible" for mob violence near Peekskill and demanded that Dewey appoint a special committee to make a full inquiry.

If freedom of thought and expression are to have real meaning, the resolution said, the rights must be guaranteed even to those "who espouse doctrines which we deeply hate."

It added: "The failure of our state government to preserve law and order and to punish those who incited the mob to violence at Peekskill on Aug. 27 inevitably led to the repeat performance on Sept. 4."

Both resolutions were submitted to the convention today by the C.I.O. state executive board, which approved them in closed session last night.

The board also endorsed former Herbert H. Lehman, who will be the Democratic-Liberal Party nominee for the U. S. Senate against Republican John Foster Dulles.

Support for the reelection of Democrat William O'Dwyer as mayor of New York city also was pledged in a resolution which drew sharp fire from left wingers. They supported Rep. Vito Marcantonio, the American Labor Party candidate for mayor.

These resolutions and about 40 others will go to the full convention for expected approval.

The executive board deferred action temporarily on a resolution supporting the national C.I.O. stand that individual unions must conform to C.I.O. policy.

Billings Impressed By Summer Camp

Through the sponsorship of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, Inc., Roger R. Billings of Kingston attended conservation camp this summer when he was instructed in camping, forestry and conservation. His experience and his appreciation for the opportunity is related in a letter which he has written to Harold E. Macholdt, president of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club.

Billings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger G. Billings of 60 Elizabeth street. Billings writes that "my 10 days at Camp Willowemoc were very interesting, educational and happy so I want to say thanks to you fellows for making my visit possible."

Commenting on the camp and camp life Billings says, "the camp is 'top' and the food was the very best."

In addition to having time for fishing, swimming, hiking and a complete every night, young Billings writes he was "instructed in fox trapping, fly casting, fly tying, soil conservation, photography, canoeing, forestry management and fire protection, law enforcement, stream improvement, and training of bird dogs and we also learned and practiced target and trap shooting, so you see we had quite a full program, something new every day."

Bugs Are Nourishing
Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP)—Don't worry about bugs you may eat in fruit or salads. They're often very nourishing. E. O. Essig, University of California entomologist, said today. Men have eaten insects for food for thousands of years. Essig said examples are locusts, water bugs in tropical Asia and white caterpillars in Mexico City. Insects add carbohydrates, fats, protein and nitrogen to your diet but aren't reliable as a source of vitamins.

27 Att. d Opening Session Wednesday Of TB School

The National Tuberculosis Association training course held the first of its five-weeks of sessions Wednesday morning at the Governor Clinton Hotel with 27 men and women in attendance.

Most of the students arrived in this city Tuesday night with N.T.A. personnel and were given a reception in the hotel's Crystal Room by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

At the reception they were welcomed to this city by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. In addition to expressing the city's appreciation to the group for selecting Kingston again this year for its annual course, the mayor commended Dr. Edward F. Shea, chairman of the reception committee, and Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, for their service to the city "not only from a health angle, but also for their efforts in making visitors to the city welcome." He also complimented Mrs. Joseph Deegan for her work in entertaining visitors.

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a brief historical outline of Kingston, and pointed out points of interest here and in the Catskills for the students to visit during their stay.

Among the other local persons who spoke brief words of welcome were Harry Ensign, president of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association; Edmund P. Rockford, board member; Dr. Robert Broad, county health commissioner; Mrs. N. Jansen Fowler, Lawrence Byrnes and Miss Katherine M. Murphy both of the Ulster county association.

Responding for the National Tuberculosis Association, F. D. Hopkins, executive secretary, expressed his appreciation for the treatment of the students and staff at their course here last year and said, "We like it so well we came back again."

Other N.T.A. officials who were present and addressed the group were Louis Drexler, director of personnel and training; Kenneth Ross and Miss Sally Germond, consultants in personnel and training; and Edward Sierks, consultant in health education.

Among the students present were Miss Norma A. Comas, executive secretary of Liga Antituberculosa de Ponce in Puerto Rico; Miss Sarah F. Nazario, executive secretary of the Association Antituberculosa de Mayaguez, also in Puerto Rico; and Mrs. Frances L. Paul, executive secretary of the Alaska Tuberculosis Association.

Present from the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society were Winston S. Bailey and Chalmers C. Stroup, Jr., field representatives.

Girl Dies in Fall

Boston, Sept. 7 (AP)—A fall down a stairway brought death to a socialite Texas girl and grave injury to a male companion who were returning with college friends from a European cruise aboard the luxury liner Excalibur, an American Export Line spokesman said today. The girl, who died yesterday, four days after she tumbled down a nine-foot stairway from the boat deck to the promenade deck, was identified as Adrienne Atwell, 20, of Dallas. The big liner has been speeded up to bring her companion Robert M. Willard, 21, listed as of 4209 Arcady, Dallas, to Boston.

Board May Report

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—The White House said today that tentative plans call for the steel fact-finding board to report to President Truman Saturday morning. That day is the deadline for the presidential panel to turn over its recommendations for settling a wage dispute that threatens a strike in the steel industry. The C.I.O. Steel Workers Union is demanding a 30-cents-an-hour "package" increase. It has set September 14 for a strike unless a settlement is reached before then.

Theeman and Cohn combined to cop the doubles by scores of 6-2, 6-2 over J. Small and B. Tobin. Other duos in the doubles were C. Sewell-B. Berkowitz, L. Hoffmann-E. Edwards, L. Barzin-H. Berkowitz.

Eliminations, so far for the mixed doubles on September 10 include Mr. and Mrs. Isaacs who won by default and K. Page and H. Berkowitz by 6-0 and 6-3.

Emmet Edwards, Jr., assisted by Kay Page and Harry Berkowitz, have been responsible for the first annual tournament. Although the courts have been in operation for the past several years, the interest was stepped up considerably this season resulting in the demand for a tournament.

The matches during last week-end drew large numbers of spectators to the courts adjoining the Woodstock Playhouse.

After the American Revolution, loyalists fled to the Bahamas where they started a boom in cane and cotton plantations—a boom which faded when slavery was abolished in 1888.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Received the following card which may be of interest today. "You will miss and readers at the Central Lunch (Nate Palis's) want to know . . . but can't find out . . . when the U. S. Hotel, now being torn down was built . . . That is, when it first opened to the public. P. J. O'Pray was first owner, builder of it, I believe. Ditto for the Hotel Ulster, "Cooks," soon to vanish. Ditto for Cooney's Hall, adjoining "Cooks," also to vanish. The removal of these old landmarks makes a column on them particularly timely and interesting. So the boys say 'Let's have one'!"

How you can accommodate them Old residents might know. Or try City Hall and the County Clerk's office. Cordially, George O'Neill, Downs street."

Readers, it's all yours. What do you know about the halls and hotels and perhaps the buildings and stores of central Broadway which now are being torn down?

Looking in a 1910 City Directory I see United States Hotel at 555 Broadway, Charles C. Abell, proprietor, also see Hotel Ulster at 554 Broadway, with N. J. Cook proprietor. In a 1930 Directory see Cook's Hall at 5 Railroad avenue. Also West Shore Hotel run by Henry Million at 37 Railroad avenue. At 43 the Hotel Eichler by Andretta, Jr. In a 1900 item see mention of Cooney's Hall on Railroad avenue but no details. Washington Hall on Abell street seemed to get all the spotlight then.

Looking in the 1957 Directory I see the Eastern House Hotel at Kingston avenue near Greenhill avenue. Who remembers hotels and halls of that section back in the good old days? Who owned them, when and how they were built, etc.

Talking to Nathan Levine, North Front street tailor, he remembers when he first came to Kingston in 1912 and had his tailor shop near the Stuyvesant Hotel. George Kelder had a lunch wagon next door and their landlord was Roscoe Otis. It seems the tailor shop had water, but the diner didn't so every day George Kelder would send his counter man with pails to Levine's faucet. On Sundays and holidays when Levine's tailor shop was closed Kelder was forced to go to the outdoor well at the Senate House grounds. I meant to go over and see if that well is still there. As far as Mr. Levine remembers, George Kelder's restaurant or diner was the only such place up town where a working person could get a quick cup of coffee and counter service. Sometimes the little diner would be so full at meal time that Kelder's customers had to wait outside. For their accommodation Kelder had a long bench outdoors where they could visit and wait until an empty stool was seen in the diner. Mr. Levine says he also remembers when Mayor Roscoe Irwin first had electric lights installed in Kingston and the old timers then, shook their heads doubtfully and murmured "He'll bankrupt the city!" But according to Mr. Levine they were the first to admit when the electric lights were lighted for the first time throughout the city.

Plan Is Opposed

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer announced yesterday his opposition to a long-pending plan of the Bulova Watch Company to erect a modern business building on part of an 11-acre tract in the Forest Hills section of Queens in the vicinity of Queens Boulevard. Several months ago the company applied to the City Planning Commission for some change in the area to permit erection of the building. The mayor said he is opposed to the proposed zone change and favors allocation of two acres of the property for a junior high school and another two acres for park space.

Building Planned

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Broadway's first major building designed for the television era will be erected on a site north of Times Square. Plans were filed yesterday for a $9,000,000, 20-story structure to be used almost exclusively for video studios and offices. The site is bounded by 51st and 52nd streets, Broadway and Seventh avenue. The structure, to be known as the Television Building, is expected to be ready for occupancy by May 1, 1951. No date has been set for demolition of buildings on the site. Herbert J. Proctor is sponsor of the project.

Papers Are Merged

Camden, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—The Morning Post management today announced merger of that newspaper with the Evening Courier, effective tomorrow. An evening dition, the Courier-Post, will be published in the future, the announcement said.

Lichen is a combination of algae and fungus growing in partnership.

Grange Square Dances May Continue 2 Months

Rosendale, Sept. 8—The final square dance of the summer season, held at Rosendale Grange hall on Friday evening topped all previous attendance records and proved to be the most successful of the series, both socially and financially. Among those attending were 28 guests from the Trowbridge Farm, one of whom, in conversation with a committee member, highly praised the clear culling of the square sets, and remarked on the general spirit of congeniality and good fellowship.

The service and hospitality committee, which has been sponsoring these dances, has announced that another square dance will be held on Friday evening, September 16. If attendance and popular demand warrant it, the dances will be continued fortnightly throughout September and October.

Rabies Clinic Sate

Rosendale, Sept. 8—The Ulster County Rabies Advisory Council is again sponsoring free rabies vaccination clinics throughout the county. Clinics for the convenience of dog owners in the town of Rosendale and vicinity will be held September 12 and 14 at the Stone Ridge firehouse.

Young Women's League Makes Plans for Year

Rosendale, Sept. 8—The Young Women's League for Service of the Rosendale Dutch Reformed Church held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the church hall with eight members present. The league is a teen-age missionary group, and the leader is Mrs. Harold Forry of Binnewade. Plans for the coming year include the making of layettes for the Annville Institute in Kentucky. To provide funds for purchasing the material needed for these layettes, the girls have planned a Halloween candy sale for October 29. Another project is to supply the necessary clothing and accessories for a girl student. Both of these projects will be carried on through the Women's Board of Domestic Missions. The organization meets regularly the first Tuesday evening of each month at the church hall. Each meeting will be followed by refreshments and a social hour. Additional members are needed if the projects planned are to be carried out successfully. Teen-age girls in the community who are interested in sewing and doing for others less fortunate are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Princess to Sell House

Morristown, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—A princess, from Pittsburgh, swindled out of $18,000 last year, has decided to put her showplace mansion and furnishings on the auction block. She is Princess Doris Farid-Es Sultanah, daughter of a Pittsburgh policeman and former wife of Prince Farid Khan, a relative of the Shah of Persia. The princess said yesterday she will go to Paris to sell another home there, and eventually return to the United States to live in a smaller home. Her $110,000 stone Tudor mansion, "Glen Alpin," has 16 rooms, nine baths, a six-car garage, guest cottage and 16 landscaped acres. The Mc. Kemble Road home will be put up for sale September 12 and 13, with a special exhibition Saturday and Sunday.

Must Prove Costs

Newton, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—New Jersey dairy farmers must prove production costs are going up before they can expect an increase in minimum milk prices, Deputy Milk Director Chester D. Schomp said today. Schomp added production costs do not appear to be rising. He made the statement before opening a public hearing on a request by the United Milk Producers for a two-and-one-half-cent-a-quart boost in the state-set wholesale price floor. Another hearing will be held by Schomp tomorrow in Woodbury.

Ice Cream Plant Burns
Beloit, Wis., Sept. 8 (AP)—Fire swept through the main plant of an ice cream manufacturing plant late last night, causing damage estimated by a company official at $600,000. The two-story brick structure housing the Taylor Freezer Corp. near the downtown district was completely destroyed. T. A. Strayer, a company official who estimated the damage, said only company records were saved. Fire Chief Glenn Davis said damage might "run as high" as $200,000 and "possibly as high as $300,000." Strayer said the fire broke out at 10 p. m. when an automatic gas water heater exploded.

Two Sical $550

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—A hold-up in a restaurant at 132 West 48th street early this morning netted a gunman and his blonde woman accomplice $550. The pair locked the manager and two patrons in a rear room and then escaped. Harold Lippepp, 43, of 45 Tiemann Place, manager of the Monte Rosa restaurant, was counting money in the cash register at 3:45 a. m. prior to closing, when a swarthy man, apparently in his 40s, entered with a blonde young woman. The man drew a revolver and ordered Lippepp to put the cash on the bar. The woman scooped up the money as the holdup man waved Lippepp and two patrons to the rear of the restaurant.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE.

Today, Harpers is bringing out a book called "Kentucky on the March," and I think everybody and his Aunt Esmerelda ought to read it. It's a simple but somehow inspiring saga of how a group of plain folks decided to make their state a better place in which to live—and then did it.

The author is Harry W. Schacter, bossman of a Louisville department store, and the story, as he told it to me in my office some months ago and as he now tells it in his book, goes something like this:

Six years ago, Harry got fed up with the bickering and slanders of the politicians at the state capital and registered his protest at a joint convocation of labor, business and farm associations. After a lot of palaver, the end result was another of those "we-view-with-alarm" resolutions.

As the session was about to break up, a farmer sitting in the back of the room got to his feet. "You may not realize it," he said, "but the folks in this hall represent a lot of votes. Instead of passing resolutions, wouldn't it be a better idea to find out what's ailing our state and then go to work and see if we can't cure it? And when I say 'we,' I'm not referring to the legislators in Frankfort—I mean us, our friends, wives and kinfolk."

Well, what happened after that could only take place in a fairy tale or at a meeting of ordinary citizens of the United States. Before the conferees caught their breath and went home, the Committee for Kentucky had been formed, and early the next morning it went to work.

When word got around the state that a lot of plain folks had banded together and were going to by-pass the politicians, other organizations began to sign up; and before long, 88 groups representing 450,000 citizens—about two-thirds of the voters in the state—were behind the new movement. And although Kentucky is a Jim Crow state, Negroes were invited to participate on the basis of full equality.

What did the committee do first? Well, being plain folks instead of Joe McGonigles, it called in a lot of knowledgeable fellows and asked them to put on paper the hundred and one things that were wrong with Kentucky. And the reports, when they came in a few months later, didn't make pretty reading.

To begin with, for 50 years Kentucky had been steadily going downhill. In 1890, it was either at or near the bottom of the 48 states in most of the things that make life worth living. It was 47th in illiteracy and 46th in deaths from tuberculosis; two-thirds of its schools didn't have safe drinking water, and some 42,000 farm homes didn't even have a privy. And as Mr. Schacter tells it, the committee could have saved a paper by just putting down what was good and adding, "The rest is bad."

Once the fact-finding was finished, the fact-distributing began. Financed by Joe and his misuses, and using newspapers, radio stations, lecturers and traveling exhibits, the committee brought the story to the attention of everybody old enough to think.

And from then on, plenty began to happen. Soon towns, villages and whistle stops had set up their own committees and, after several big state-wide gatherings, the combined thinking of all the folks was welded into one "People's Legislative Program."

"Mighty fine idea," said the politicians when it was presented to them, "but who's going to pay for it all?"

"That's easy," said the committee's chairman. "The people, through taxes. Whether you think so or not, our folks are more interested in living decently than in lowering the tax rate a few mills."

The legislators did a double-take; thought of the elections coming up; and then passed 26 of the 38 planks in the program—at a heist in the annual budget of 13,000,000.

And that, in short, is how the Blue Grass State began to hoist itself up by its own shoelaces. Of course, the job is a long way from being finished, but so much of a revolution has been accomplished in people's thinking that recently, when the mayor of a certain town announced he was going to cut the tax rate, a delegation of businessmen promptly visited him. "We want to protest this tax reduction," said the spokesman. "What we need is more taxes, not less. How can we get our new power plant and our new recreation hall built if we don't shell out for them . . . ?"

At a recent town hall meeting in Henderson, a local committee named Jim Anderson presented a credo which is worth repeating:

"The Committee for the City and County of Henderson is more than an organization. It is a faith—a faith in the ideology of democracy. It is a physical embodiment of the belief that men and women can assemble from different interests and occupations, from different racial stocks and religions, from different social and economic conditions, and, by subordinating special interest to general interests, can thereby achieve a richer, fuller community life than is otherwise obtainable."

plug for "Kentucky on the March" because it's my belief that the battle for democracy in this country will be won or lost in our small towns. As I see it, at no time in our history has there been so great a challenge to our freedom as today, and I think this freedom can best be preserved by a hard-hitting democracy functioning effectively at the local level in 10,000 American communities. Moreover, I have no faith in the self-declared geniuses who presume to call the shots for millions of people, and I submit that the history books prove that the wisdom of political supermen, with few exceptions, has been a lot less than super.

"Kentucky on the March," with a foreword by Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, isn't a book for businessmen or gentlemen with foreign labels on their underpants. It sets out to prove that there's safety only in the thinking of numbers, and offers a blueprint on how to achieve a state of welfare without the welfare state. Read it, please, and then pass it on to the fellow who lives next door. (Copyright, 1949, by Billy Rose) (Distributed by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Files Slander Suit

Miami Fla., Sept. 8 (AP)—A suit asking $525,000 for slander was filed in federal court yesterday by a West Palm Beach attorney against his sister, Howard Mulligan, former assistant attorney general of the State of New York, filed the suit claiming his spinster sister, Miss Agnes Mulligan of Cazenovia, N. Y., "with more than ordinary malice" defamed his character with intent to injure his professional and personal reputation in West Palm Beach. Mulligan alleged his sister made a $100 gift to a West Palm Beach church in July and followed it with a reportedly defamatory letter to a member of the congregation. He charged information in the letter was told to other members of the congregation and also spread by party line telephone. He asked that his sister be restrained from further action. The suit did not reveal details of the letter.

'Statism' May Be

Democrats thought sounded very much like Republican political talk.

And only yesterday Senator Dulles (R.-N. Y.) said the threat of statism will be the major issue in the New York senatorial campaign this fall. Dulles is expected to receive the Republican nomination to oppose former Governor Herbert Lehman, the likely Democratic choice.

"The trend to statism needs to be stopped now and here," Dulles said in announcing he would accept the Republican nomination if it is offered to him. Senator Capehart (R.-Ind.) said there is no doubt in his mind that statism is the basic issue between the two political parties.

As generally defined by Republicans, statism describes a government which is reaching out for more power over the lives of the people. Lucas said no one has lost any liberties under the Democratic program. "In fact," he added, "the great benefits have brought more happiness and contentment."

But Senator Ives (R.-N. Y.), one of a Republican group of self-styled Senate liberals, said he agreed with Dulles that statism is a threat to the country under Democratic control.

"I regard it as a fundamental issue," Ives said.

The public health service in Washington put the figure to date at 23,458.

O'Connor predicted the total will climb to 40,000 by Christmas, far above the all-time high of 30,000 cases in 1916's record epidemic.

The foundation has sent out $5,662,164 in epidemic aid so far this year, O'Connor said, and only had $1,150,000 left.

Other A.L.P. endorsement of Republicans reported by the Board of Elections were William Sinsabaugh for supervisor of the Fifth Ward, Joseph Corcoran for supervisor and David Schechter for alderman of the Sixth Ward, James Amato for supervisor and Martin Kelly for alderman of the Seventh Ward. Fred Baker for supervisor and Joseph Bruck for alderman of the Eighth Ward, Robert C. Cullum for alderman of the Twelfth Ward and Clarence Van Demark for alderman of the Thirteenth Ward.

The A.L.P. endorsed two Democratic party city-wide candidates, Francis J. O'Neill for mayor and Francis Martucci for city judge.

Those endorsements were reported unofficially pending the canvass of primary votes, which has not been completed.

started for another year yesterday, Miss Canine, who is in her 60's, resigned. "I just decided at the end of summer vacation that I didn't want to go back to school," she said. "It's a feeling I think, that's common to the human mind."

C. of C. Requests Council Actions on Hazardous Traffic

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce, through its Traffic and Transportation Committee, has moved for Common Council action "to alleviate hazardous traffic conditions at several points in the city," Robert E. Teetsel, president of the chamber, announced today.

A resolution, recommended by the chamber's traffic committee was sanctioned by its Executive Committee, and President Teetsel said he hoped the council would take prompt action.

The resolution stressed that "traffic conditions at several points in Kingston have become very serious and hazardous, particularly on Route 8-W between the Rondout Creek bridge and the East Chester street by-pass, on Albany avenue between Broadway and Clinton avenue, on Clinton avenue and on Washington avenue between North Front street and the Esopus creek bridge."

It emphasizes also that since the Broadway crossing elimination, the Thruway and the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge projects will soon become realities, the construction period and completion of these projects will drastically influence traffic in and near the City of Kingston, much planning will be necessary, and it urged the council to "facilitate the appointment of a planning board."

The resolution asked that "the Traffic Control Committee of the Common Council, or other appropriate committee of the city government, be instructed to make a careful analysis of the traffic problems in this city and take such steps as may be necessary to relieve the aforementioned dangerous traffic conditions."

The resolution also said the Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce stands ready to work with and assist any official agency in helping plan for the alleviation of the present traffic problems. It was signed by Attorney Harry Gold, chairman of the committee.

The chamber praised the program of safety and accident prevention being promoted by the Ulster County Safety Council and suggested that all organizations and agencies get behind the program.

The announcement said speakers for meetings on various phases of the safety program are available through the council on request. Inquiries addressed to the chamber will be forwarded to the proper committee or those interested may write to Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen, president of the Ulster County Safety Council, 17 John street, Kingston.

Members of the chamber's Traffic and Transportation Committee at its recent meeting were Harry Gold, chairman; Kenneth Hecock, Maynard Mize, James A. Simpson, Edwin T. Strong, J. Ellis Briggs, and Albert Kurd, secretary.

picketing and "blacklisting" issues be settled before any general settlement is reached in the dispute.

After yesterday's new violence in the 13-week-old Bell Aircraft strike at Buffalo, N. Y., Gov. Thomas E. Dewey called for a halt "to such lawlessness." New violence was reported today. Six persons suffered injuries yesterday. About 300 demonstrators had responded to a call by the United Labor Defense Committee against what it described as Bell's efforts to "smash" striking Local 501, C.I.O. United Auto Workers. The U.A.W., which represents 1,700 of Bell's 3,000 employees, is seeking a pension and a 10 cents an hour pay hike.

In Detroit, there appeared no indication of a major break in the strike-threatening negotiations between Ford and the C.I.O. United Auto Workers. A state labor mediator sat in at a similar bargaining session between Chrysler and the U.A.W. and made preliminary arrangements for a strike poll among nearly 80,000 workers.

PROPHECY

LIGHTS THE FUTURE

We have also a more sure word of prophecy whereunto ye do well that ye take heed as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, 2 Peter 1:19. Prophecy is to be studied and understood. The messages of the great prophetic books, Daniel and Revelation are needed today. There is a three-fold blessing pronounced upon those who give heed to prophecy. "Blessed is he that readeth and they that hear the words of this prophecy and keep those things that are written therein for the time is at hand, Revelation 1:3.

PROPHECY IS SURE

Prophecy foretold Israel's deliverance from Egypt to the very day "and it came to pass at the end of four hundred and thirty years even the self same day it came to pass that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Egypt, Exodus 12:41. When Egypt's famed power and glory awed the nations, the prophets declared "It shall be the basest of Kingdoms - - they shall no more rule over the nations, Ezekiel 29:15. Egypt was not to be destroyed but to become base or weak. The centuries have proved the accuracy of this Bible prophecy, when Ninevah was a mighty metropolis, Nahum looking into the future foresaw the mounds that would cover her ruins and said "She is empty and void and waste, Nahum 2:10. History has amply verified this prophecy. Again when Babylon ruled the world, and seemed strong enough to rule forever, Jeremiah predicted, "And Babylon shall become heaps," Jeremiah 51:37. Today archeologists tell us this great city which was 60 miles in circumference is naught but mounds and shapeless wreckage - - Prophecy sealed her doom.

PROPHECY UNDERGIRDS THE GOSPEL

Prophecy undergirds the greatest truths of the scripture. Christ's pre-existence and virgin birth, His ministry and sinless life, His substitutionary death and vicarious sacrifice, His resurrection and ascension, His High Priesthood, and His triumphant return as King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

PROPHECY HEADLINES THE NEWS OF OUR DAY

Prophecy explains the meaning of current events. Prophecy predicts the atomic age with all its wars, calamities, famines, pestilences and distress of nations. Christ predicted in the last days, "There shall be signs upon the earth - - distress of nations with perplexity - - men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth," Luke 21:25,26. As civilization halts and shudders in its onward march, and the hemispheres are bathed in the rays of a setting sun—does it mean that we stand at the crossroads of civilization; at the end of an era and approach the gateway to another? What does the future hold? What about Russia? Where does America stand? ARE WE TO HAVE PEACE IN OUR LIFETIME? In answer the March of Prophecy unrolls the past, present and future, and gives us a vivid picture of Russia, the Kings of the East, the annihilation of Turkey, the part America will play. In twelve great major prophecies of Daniel and the Revelation is revealed the outcome of all human history. Yes, Prophecy lights the Future.

Bar Association Questions Practice

St. Louis, Sept. 8 (UPI)—The American Bar Association has questioned whether it is proper for judges to testify at trials.

In one of two resolutions adopted by the group yesterday, the lawyers directed the Bar Association president to appoint a special committee to study the matter.

No names or cases were given, but delegates recalled the Alger Hiss perjury trial of last June.

U. S. Supreme Court Justices Felix Frankfurter and Stanley Reed were character witnesses for Hiss.

The trial, in which Hiss was accused by Whittaker Chambers of belonging to a pre-war Communist underground in Washington, ended in a hung jury and has been postponed.

In its other resolution, the Association approved of the broad approval Commission recommendations to dispose of overlapping and unnecessary expense in the government.

Nine other proposals were turned down by the delegates.

Earlier Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the U. S. Supreme Court called for less delay, expense and technicality in the work of all courts.

Vinson particularly urged the states to set up procedures so that prisoners—who now appeal directly to the U. S. Supreme Court at the rate of approximately 600 a year—can be heard in the states.

MOTHER ALONE ANNOUNCES BABY

A mother-to-be asks: "My husband and I are separated. I don't believe there ever can be a reconciliation. I'm going to have a baby soon and don't want to send Mr. and Mrs. . . . announcements. Do I just send them in my own name and should it be as Mrs. John . . . or Mrs. Anne . . . ? Or don't you think I should send any?"

Answer: The original conventional announcement would be best. It was merely the mother's visiting card with the little card for the baby tied to it, and did not include the father. I think this type of announcement would emphasize the situation less in than writing your name alone on the ready-made fill-in announcements.

Junior Bridesmaid

Dear Mrs. Post: At what age is it proper for a girl to take part in a wedding as a junior bridesmaid? Someone tells me you have said from 7 to 14. But it seems to me that a girl of 7 or 8 is too young to put in a modified copy of the bridesmaid's dresses.

Answer: It depends on the size rather than the age of the child. If she is very little she is a flower girl. If she is very big she is a junior bridesmaid dressed in a dress suitable to her age but of the same material and color as those of the bridesmaids.

Meeting Bridesmaid's Mother

Dear Mrs. Post: When arriving at the reception and being met by the bride's mother, whom I know, who then introduces me to the bridegroom's mother, a stranger; what can I say to the latter other than "How do you do?"

Answer: It is entirely correct and expected that everyone speak to the bridegroom's mother. You say something pleasant about her son or his bride, or both.

School Manners

Dear Mrs. Post: In school if the teacher drops something, should one of the girls pick it up for her if there are boys present and the boys don't make any move to?

Answer: It might do the boys good to have their manners pointed out by the girls, but I think it would be better for a girl merely to remind a boy next to her by saying, "Look John! Miss Brooks has dropped her glove."

Mrs. Post has had a great many letters asking for directions for filling a hope chest. Leaflet E-5, "The Bride's Trousseau," includes a list of items needed for the bride's home. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. DRIVER ANT

Answer: The original conventional announcement would be best. It was merely the mother's visiting card with the little card for the baby tied to it, and did not include the father. I think this type of announcement would emphasize the situation less in than writing your name alone on the ready-made fill-in announcements.

Junior Bridesmaid

Dear Mrs. Post: At what age is it proper for a girl to take part in a wedding as a junior bridesmaid? Someone tells me you have said from 7 to 14. But it seems to me that a girl of 7 or 8 is too young to put in a modified copy of the bridesmaid's dresses.

Answer: It depends on the size rather than the age of the child. If she is very little she is a flower girl. If she is very big she is a junior bridesmaid dressed in a dress suitable to her age but of the same material and color as those of the bridesmaids.

Meeting Bridesmaid's Mother

Dear Mrs. Post: When arriving at the reception and being met by the bride's mother, whom I know, who then introduces me to the bridegroom's mother, a stranger; what can I say to the latter other than "How do you do?"

Answer: It is entirely correct and expected that everyone speak to the bridegroom's mother. You say something pleasant about her son or his bride, or both.

School Manners

Dear Mrs. Post: In school if the teacher drops something, should one of the girls pick it up for her if there are boys present and the boys don't make any move to?

Answer: It might do the boys good to have their manners pointed out by the girls, but I think it would be better for a girl merely to remind a boy next to her by saying, "Look John! Miss Brooks has dropped her glove."

Mrs. Post has had a great many letters asking for directions for filling a hope chest. Leaflet E-5, "The Bride's Trousseau," includes a list of items needed for the bride's home. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Psychologists Told Industry Fails to Know Workers Needs

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, A.P. Science Editor
Denver, Sept. 8 (AP)—A psychological aid to save America's free enterprise was described to the American Psychological Association today. It was proposed by Dr. Douglas McGregor, president, Antioch College, Ohio.

"If," he said, "another major depression forces the overthrow of America's free enterprise system, one of the principal reasons will be the acute problems of human relations confronting industry."

From the psychological point of view he said the great risk is failure of many managements to realize the workers' needs. These needs, he explained, are not only for food, shelter and clothing.

They are also for power, prestige and achievement. The latter three he said are too often overlooked. Psychology would take them into account and make them part of free enterprise.

Psychology would also adopt a new point of view in relations between management and workers. This is a modified continuation of the relation between parents and children. An industrial group would be a family in which everyone worked through the group for his own interests.

"These are managers," Dr. McGregor explained, "who believe they can make people work by being fair but firm. This is a compromise between the philosophy of the whip and that of the bribe."

"We have plenty of psychological evidence that such a conception is unsound. If one expects to continue a relationship with people, it is not worth while to try to make them do anything. Apathy or hostility are virtually inevitable consequences of the manager who seeks to make people do his bidding."

Dr. McGregor said the foremost requirement for this industrial group success is confidence. But confidence alone will not raise production. He said the production of goods and services was to be directly linked in the workers' minds with fulfillment of their own personal needs.

As examples, he said some managements have doubled and tripled production by a system in which everyone gets a share. Workers and management in all grades get the same percentage of financial rewards. Under this system he said the workers themselves take good care of shirkers.

Another need, he said, is to remember that there is a difference between efficiency and effectiveness. Technical efficiency is apt to be overrated, with management forgetting that there is also a kind of practical efficiency which really produces.

State Lightweight Champs to Feature B'nai B'rith Card on Sept. 15

Bobby Barnes, Buffalo, Matched With Charlie Bloss, Pennsylvania Titlist

Having recessed its boxing program during the summer to co-operate with the Colonial baseball team, B'nai B'rith plans to open up again for the fall and winter season with due fanfare.

Topping the card scheduled for Thursday night, Sept. 15 at the municipal auditorium are two of the leading amateur lightweights of the country, according to Chairman Bill Singer of the organization's boxing committee who announced four bouts today.

In the star attraction it will be Bobby Barnes, 135, Buffalo's classy ringmaster, who won the New York Golden Gloves championship against Charlie Bloss, 138, Wilkes Barre, Pa., who holds the title in the Quaker State.

Bloss Avails Chance
"Bloss has been waiting for a crack at Barnes ever since the Golden Gloves tournament," Singer said. "He missed mixing it with Bobby in the great scramble for titles when he ran into tough luck in the semi-finals. His bid to prove superiority here on the 15th should be a thriller."

Barnes, rated as one of the cleverest lightweights ever developed by George Lamphire, Buffalo's ace trainer of ring talent, both professional and amateur, isn't worried over the match. "We should take him in stride," said Lamphire.

In a recent tour of several amateur boxing clubs opened, Chairman Singer and David "Doodle" Popick, his co-chairman, observed battles from the same stable as Bloss and were highly impressed.

"Pat Roaty, the Pennsylvania coach, has a string of real good ringmen," said Singer. "Judging from what I've seen his boys do, Kingston fans will see a lot of Quaker state scappers on B'nai B'rith cards."

Other Five Rounders
Other five rounders slated for September 15 are:

Abe Dickson, Buffalo, lightweight vs Cosmo DiBase, Wilkes Barre, Pa.

Bob Provizoli, 155, Scranton, Pa. vs Ily White, 158, Albany, two rough and ready middleweights with plenty of dynamite in their punches.

Libby Mazzerelli, 130, Jeffersonville vs Phil Taborio, Utica.

Mazzerelli sponsored by the Jeffersonville Lions Club, recently defeated Rufus Rogers of Albany, and is regarded as a prospect headed for laurels in the boxing world.

Relative to the return to the auditorium, Singer is optimistic about the opening night crowd. "The fans have been waiting all summer for resumption of the ring sport," he said, "and with two state champs heading the bill there's plenty of drawing power."

Singer and Popick extended themselves as far as getting top rate battlers for the 15th in order to make an impressive start for the winter months, and intend they said to present leading amateurs all season at the auditorium.

Bags Two Aces
Meridian, Miss., Sept. 8 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Eddie Merzins, Meridian High School student, shot two holes-in-one on the same round yesterday at the Northwood Country Club. They gave him an 18-hole total of 65, two under the course record. They brought his collection of aces to three. He got the first on July 15, 1948.

Era of New Sport in Rosendale

Bowling officials and dignitaries attended the opening of the new alleys in Rosendale Tuesday night when a new six-team women's league rolled its first games of the season. The six-alley layout is located in the Chateau Restaurant in Rosendale. In usual order are: Effie Blakely, vice-president, Helene H. Molonhauer, president, Vincent Steeley, senior member of the Rosendale Village Board and Steve Hiro, owner and operator of the alleys (Freeman Photo).

Baron Leone, Coleman, Freeman On Sept. 13 Wrestling Card Here

Three supporting matches for the first all-star wrestling exhibition scheduled in Kingston on Tuesday, Sept. 13, were announced today by Promoter Bill Johnston.

The feature event which will be fought to a finish features the Golden Superman of Hollywood against Texas Babe Sharkey, former claimant to the heavyweight wrestling crown.

The semi-finals brings together Baron Michele Leone, the Italian nobleman and current crowd pleaser, and Steve Karnas of Detroit.

Freeman On Card
Herbie Freeman, of New York, one of the most notorious villains of the grunt and goan industry, is paired against the pride of Ireland's wrestling domain, George Flynn of Belfast in a 30-minute time limit affair.

The opening time limit just brings together Joe Kumerof of Minsk, Russia; and Abe Coleman, veteran New York topnotcher.

The opening bout is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

Although the professional grapplers have been absent from Kingston for more than a decade, the youthful New York promoter believes that local sports fans will go for the modern version of the mat art.

Superman On Top
"The Golden Superman is one of our best attractions," Johnston said, "and I'm sure Kingston fans will like him. He has been a tremendous hit throughout the country and on television and ranks right behind Gorgeous George as a boxoffice attraction."

"Sharkey will make a rugged opponent for the Superman," Johnston continued. "He is a great showman along villain lines but a real shooter. This bout should give wrestling a real sendoff in Kingston."

The New York promoter said his organization would attempt several cards on successive weeks.

"We don't know how the fans are going for it," Johnston said, "but we're going to give it a good try. We think wrestling is back to stay on a large scale."

Johnston spent a couple of days in town this week looking over the municipal auditorium setup and expressed himself as satisfied with everything. For the first show at least, the same seating arrangement as that for boxing will be used for the wrestling program.

The bouts are staged under the supervision of the New York State Athletic Commission.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

(By The Associated Press)
Smoky Joe Page is the man of the hour for the embattled New York Yankees.

Hero in 1947, but a failure in 1948, the strong-armed fireman from the bullpen is a leading candidate for the most valuable player in the American League.

Page never was better than he was last night as he struck out four of the five men he faced in the Yanks' important 5-2 victory over Boston.

Called to the rescue of Allie Reynolds after Bobby Doerr tripped with the potential tying run in the eighth, Page blazed his fast ball past the Red Sox in a sizzling performance that dampened their pennant hopes.

Now 2½ games behind the Yanks, who never have been out of first place since opening day, the Sox must win the final two games of the Yankee Stadium series to remain within striking distance.

Boston took an early lead on Reynolds' wildness, but the Yanks struck back to go ahead, 3-2, on Bill Johnson's second triple and a costly error by Vern Stephens before Page appeared on the scene.

After Doerr tripped to put the tying run on third, Manager Casey Stengel waved in Page. Al Zarilla he retired on one pitch. Then he fanned Billy Goodman to end the inning.

Bobby Browns home, following Phil Rizzuto's punt single made it 5-2 in the eighth, but Page never let up. He whiffed Birdie Tebbels pinch hitter Matt Batts and Dom DiMaggio to end the game.

It's a discouraging uphill struggle now for Boston which sends Ellis Kinder out to oppose Eddie Lopat in today's game. The Sox are five down on the all-important losing side. They have only 19 to play as compared to 24 for the Yanks.

Rain knocked out the Cleveland-Detroit and Philadelphia-Washington games, but the Chicago White Sox scampared home with a 7-1 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. Bill Wright stumped the Browns with a four-hitter.

Cards, Flock Win
In the National League St. Louis came from behind to shade Chicago, 3-2, after Brooklyn nosed out Boston, 5-4. The Cards still lead by one full game.

Four sharp singles in the last of the ninth pulled the Cards out of a loss that would have left them only two percentage points ahead of the Brooks. Glenn Nelson, who hit a homer in the fifth, started the winning surge. Solly Hemus, Nippy Jones and Marty Marion followed his lead to give Howe Pollet win No. 18.

Two Are Banished
Violence flared in Flatbush as Eddie Stanky of the Braves and Spider Jorgensen of the Dodgers squared off in a fist fight that involved members of both clubs. After both were ejected, Eddie Miksis replaced Jorgensen. He came through with the game-winning blow, a two-run homer in the seventh inning, his first of the year.

Stanky apparently spiked Jorgensen accidentally while pivoting for a double play in the fifth. Both players went down and there was a wild flurry before order was restored.

Jack Banta, striking out nine on route to his eighth win, gave way to Joe Hatten when the Braves threatened in the ninth. Hatten ended the game with one pitch to pinch hitter Mickey Livingston.

Kenny Raffensberger of Cincinnati nailed down his 15th victory with his first home run in subduing Pittsburgh, 5-2.

The Giants and Phillies were not scheduled.

15-4, 789; Kinder, Boston, 18-5, 783.

Strikeouts—Trucks, Detroit, 137, Newhouse, Detroit, 121.

Any golf match that is staged in the supercharged setting of the Alvin Boice-Leon Randall joust and attracts large partisan groups never fails to furnish heroics, a touch of the comic and near tragedy. The Boice-Randall script embraced all of these items and two sets of rules, too. Under the circumstances, it wouldn't have made a particle of difference if seven sets of regulations were in effect. Boice and Randall played a friendly, intensive match and acquitted themselves in the highest traditions of golf.

There was the case of the tall, balding man from Catskill avenue who picked up Boice's tee shot on the No. 8 hole at Wiltwyck. The agile landed deep in the rough above the dog-leg fairway. The tall, balding man with back at least a yard in order to keep the ball in the same general direction. The important item in that situation was that Boice was not permitted to move to the left because it would have meant giving him unfair advantage. He could go in only one direction—back.

It was agreed before the Wiltwyck half of the match that there would be no cleaning of golf balls on the green. What happens? During the driving rain, Alvie Boice unconsciously picked up his ball, scrubbed it bright and then set it down on the green. Randall could have claimed the hole on a technicality, but the young man declined to do so. In the morning round it was permissible to clean balls at Twaalfskill.

A few moments before the incident on No. 3, Randall had hooked his fairway shot out of bounds to the left of the green into the woods. A mob of youngsters dashed pell mell into the thicket in search of the ball. This concerted action drew a vigorous protest from Twaalfskill partisans who feared the location of the ball might be moved. This incident points up the necessity for the use of force and course marshals. Interest in golf being what it is these days, use of marshals will be mandatory next year.

Judge Schrick handled a stickler at Twaalfskill's No. 8 hole with a judicial calm and deftness in the morning round. Boice's drive, a tremendous blast, landed on a bare spot on the second level of the high hill facing the approach to the green. According to the rules established for Twaalfskill, Boice was entitled to move his ball off the bare ground to a lie not closer to the hole.

If he moved the ball to the left, it would have meant a clearer, open shot at the green. If he moved to the right, he would have been faced with a hazardous approach through the trees. There was only one solution. He had to go back at least a yard in order to keep the ball in the same general direction. The important item in that situation was that Boice was not permitted to move to the left because it would have meant giving him unfair advantage. He could go in only one direction—back.

Best Gulp of the Match: Wiltwyck rooster: That Boice guy really hits that ball a Inog way Twaalfskill reply: "Huh! You should see his brothers."

Perhaps the most amusing episode occurred during the brief lull because of the rain on Wiltwyck's No. 3 hole. Although their man was hotter than a western serial pistol—and there was no evidence that the rain would cool him off—the more apprehensive Twaalfskill rooster didn't think so.

"Keep swinging, Alvie," shouted one.

"Keep warm, keep running up and down," offered the second rooster, a more nervous type.

"Don't make him stop swinging," exhorted still another.

At any moment we expected to see Alvie take off in a mad dash down the fairway. He used good sense, however, and saved his breath for sterner things ahead.

Boice consumed enormous quantities of orange pop at the victory celebration. Van Haver expressed his concern late in the night with the quip: "If that guy sneezes the soda will squirt out of his ears."

Mahanoy City, Peekskill Win in N.A.L. Playoffs

(By The Associated Press)
Arlight pitching sent the Mahanoy City Brewers and the Peekskill Highlanders off to a flying start in the North Atlantic League post season playoffs.

Mike Koons, veteran pitcher-manager of the Brewers, set the pennant-winning Stroudsburg Poconos down with three hits last night as Mahanoy City won the opener of one semi-final series, 2-1.

Peekskill's Mike McCarron spaced out air hits in beating Lebanon 4-2 in the first game of the other semi-final set.

In the second contest of the best-of-seven series tonight, Stroudsburg will travel to Mahanoy City and Peekskill will move to Lebanon.

Last night's scores: Mahanoy City 2, Stroudsburg 1 (Mahanoy City leads 1-0 in best-of-seven series).

Peekskill 4, Lebanon 2 (Peekskill leads 1-0 in best-of-seven series).

Ace Expects Trouble

Kansas City, Sept. 8 (AP)—Dr. Gary Middlecoff, the National Open champion, says he operates on the theory that it's just as tough winning secondary golf tournaments as it is the big ones. That's why the lanky, Mississippi, Tenn., dentist figures he will have plenty of trouble in the $3,000 Kansas City Open. Middlecoff and about 70 other professionals and a drove of amateurs were to get in their first round on the 6,319-yard par 72 Swone Park course today.

Ex-Guardsmen Are Reminded to File For Pay Benefits

Captain J. J. Adams, local public relations officer of Headquarters 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, announced today that former guardsmen and naval militiamen who are 60 or older and who believe themselves eligible for retirement benefits, should apply directly to the Army or Navy Departments for such retirement pay.

The local office also pointed out that effective June 30 of this year payments are made only from the first day of the month following approval of the application for retirement pay. The pay, he said, is not retroactive.

Retrospective payment of retirement benefits ceased for veterans of the New York National Guard and Naval Militia in June after more than 500 certificates of service were issued by the office of the Adjutant General, New York State, before the deadline.

The majority of these requests, were from veterans seeking to verify eligibility for retirement pay.

Under Public Law 810, any person who has had an aggregate of 20 or more years of satisfactory service in the federalized National Guard, Naval Militia or other reserve component, and under certain conditions service in any of the regular armed forces, including active Federal service in either World War I or II, is eligible for retirement pay on reaching the age of 60. Conditions of Public Law 810 were publicized widely throughout New York State by the adjutant general, and many National Guard and Naval Militia veterans already are receiving checks monthly.

Applications for retirement benefits are made directly to the Adjutant General of the Army or Chief of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, National Guard and Naval Militia veterans can obtain certificates of service, when and if they are required.

Veterans Assemble

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—There are tables in the conference room, but few chairs. The delegates don't need them. They have brought their own chairs—wheel chairs. Fourteen of them are here for the annual convention of the Paralyzed Veterans of America. They represent 1,600 members. Opening the session yesterday in the Hotel New Yorker, President Bernard E. Shufelt told delegates that "we must stop looking to Washington for bigger and better bonuses, and go to work." Paralyzed veterans, he said, can take their rightful place on the American scene only by their own "sweat and effort." It is the first time that the organization has held its convention outside a veterans hospital.
